JFK Deplores Lack of Accord On Test Ban

But President Hails 'Surge for Unity' Among U.S. Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says failure to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a nuclear test ban was the biggest disappointment of his first year in the White House.

"This," he said, could have been "a very important step in easing tensions."

The most heartening development, he believes, was a "great surge for unity" among the Western Allies and in Latin America.

In his first news conference of the year—five days before the first anniversary of his inauguration—Kennedy touched on nearly a subject a minute Monday, roaming from the farm problem at home to Laos and Berlin abroad.

Steel — He hopes for a quick agreement between industry and the union to avert a strike and the hasty stockpiling of steel that might impede the nation's economic recovery. Contracts expire in June.

Laos—The risk of war is the alternative to the risk of Communist control of coalition governments in Southeast Asia, he said. "We are taking a chance in all of Southeast Asia. We are taking a chance in other areas also." In his judgment "it is in the best interest of our country to work for a neutral and independent Laos."

Farm—Kennedy set a goal of reasonable balance between farm output and demand to insure that the farm income "will not be broken by surpluses, as it was to a substantial extent in the '20s." In his State of the Union message, he promised to present Congress a new farm program geared to the times.

Civil rights—Kennedy said he would issue an order against racial discrimination in federally aided housing when he believes it will serve the public interest and advance the cause of civil rights. He claimed more progress in the field during the last 12 months than the previous eight years and said his record may be judged properly at the end of this year "and at the end of our term."

Foreign trade—"When the educational job is done," Kennedy declared, the country will support his request for broad authority to negotiate tariff cuts. He said efforts are being prepared in an effort to persuade Congress members.

Astrology Group Awaits Disaster

CLEATOR, Ariz. (AP)—Predicting a world catastrophe on Feb. 4, a group which calls itself Understanding Inc., has taken a 10-year lease on this Bradshaw Mountain mining camp 50 miles northwest of Phoenix.

Cleator, they say, is one of 12 locations that will be unaffected by havoc created at the conjunction of seven planets.

Mrs. Tahahlita Mantzuarni, a spokesman for the 22 adults in the group, says an astrologer forecast a disaster that would be "hell in nature—with storms, tidal waves, earthquakes—"

Henry Giclas, an astronomer at Lowell Observatory, said the planetary conjunction Feb. 4 is unusual only because the planets will be in the same part of the sky.

"It will exert only a barely perceptible force upon the earth," he said.

Khrush Chides Farmers For High Loss of Hogs

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a speech published today sharply criticized the farmers of Byelorussia for letting 15 per cent of their hogs die last year.

"This is the result of a lack of fodder and bad treatment of livestock," the premier said.

Khrushchev told the farmers he had not come to read Pushkin's poems without me. I came here to expose shortcomings."

TENSION—The tension is evident as a Moslem walks past French soldiers in Algiers during the current wave of terrorism. Scores have been killed and wounded.

French Eye Harsh Methods To End Violence in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—French authorities studied new and harsher measures today to cope with the tide of violence in Algeria's clannish war.

Three killings in Oran boosted the overnight death toll to 20. Half a dozen persons were wounded in combat between European and Moslem terrorist organizations.

Louis Joxe, French minister for Algerian affairs, met with the territory's top officials at the new seaside administrative center of Rocher Noir, 30 miles from Algiers.

They were reported to be discussing the possible proclamation of a state of siege, which would clamp tighter restrictions on Algeria's already closely regulated civil life.

The day's events included a daylight holdup of an Algerian bank by five Europeans. They escaped in a motor car with the equivalent of $18,000. This may have been nothing more than an ordinary crime, but in the tense atmosphere of Algiers it was immediately assumed the Europeans were robbing the bank on behalf of the right-wing French Secret Army Organization.

In Oran, three Europeans were slain and another wounded in a series of attacks attributed to Moslems on the rebel National Liberation Front.

In Algiers, two Moslems were wounded by bullets fired by European terrorists. In Bone, a young Moslem was injured by the explosion of a plastic bomb. In Mostaganem, near Oran, two Moslems working for the French were wounded by gunfire.

French army and police officers were informed that secret contacts between the French government and the Algerian rebel regime were progressing, and that a cease-fire announcement was possible soon.

Official sources said important headway has been made toward a compromise in the last few days although differences remain on the question of nationality for the European minority in an independent Algeria, and the length and nature of a transition period before Algerian independence.

Authorities feared that if an accord with the rebels is announced, the right-wing European Secret Army Organization would attempt to block it by creating chaos and disorder.

Groundhog's Backer Cries: 'Oh, Foul Deed'

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Defenders of the groundhog cried out in protest today against charges that, instead of being a weather forecaster, he is a lazy hibernator who sleeps through his big day.

His human allies say the groundhog is a topnotch weather prophet. They are sizzling at the assertion he is interested only in food and romance when he finally awakes.

Groundhog clubs in this eastern Pennsylvania community and in Punxsutawney in the western part of the state charge foul play by the National Geographic Society, which said the groundhog sleeps right through groundhog day, Feb. 2, rather than emerging from his cozy quarters and looking for his shadow.

The old belief is that if the groundhog sees his shadow Feb. 2 there will be six more weeks of winter weather and poor crops; if he doesn't cast his shadow it means an early spring and good harvest.

The Geographic Society said the groundhog hibernates from mid-autumn until March, living off food he eats in the summer. When he emerges, said the society, he isn't thinking of weather but only of romance and food.

"Oh, foul deed!" exclaimed Robert Herr, chairman of the Board of Hibernating Governors of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs in Quarryville.

Congo Premier Slated For Washington Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cyrille Adoula, premier of the strife-torn Congo, probably will visit the United Nations and also come to Washington next week, U.S. officials say.

The United Nations, with strong backing from the United States, has actively supported Adoula's efforts to crush secessionist moves by Katanga chief Moïse Tshombe and leftist Antoine Gizenga.

Train, Auto Crash; Driver Slightly Hurt

Grover E. Temple, 20, Route 1, fortunately escaped with only minor injuries after his car was involved in a collision with a diesel engine on the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing at Clinton St. at 5:15 a. m. today.

Temple was taken to Berger Hospital by Circleville Police. He was treated for slight injuries to the left side of the head, left wrist and left leg below the knee.

The car driver told Police Sgt. Roderick List and Patrolman Jay Curry he was headed north on Clinton St. He said he didn't hear the engine's bell and whistle until almost the same time of the crash.

Officers said the vehicle was carried about 75 yards east on the tracks. The car was demolished, they added.

The diesel engine was operated by C. W. Fawcett of Columbus.

Sukarno Scoffs at Dutch Claims Invasion Planned

U.S. Testing Its Airlift Capability

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The first elements of an Army force of 6,000 men arrived here from the United States today to test American ability to airlift troops abroad in a hurry.

A C135 transport carrying 72 officers and men of the 4th Infantry Division touched down at sprawling Rhine-Main base after a non-stop polar flight from McChord base in Washington.

The operation has been nicknamed "Long Thrust II."

Lt. Col. James Grimsley, 40, of Florence, S.C., divisions' operations officer, headed the first 18 officers and 54 men who arrived by way of Greenland on a flight of 10 hours, 7 minutes.

"Welcome to Europe," said Gen. Charles D. Palmer, deputy commander in chief of U.S. forces in Europe as he stepped forward to greet Grimsley. "How was the flight?"

"Just fine," said Grimsley. Another C135 is due later today. From Wednesday until the airlift of the 6,000 men is completed next Saturday midnight planes will be landing here around the clock.

It is a major test of U.S. capability to rush troops to Europe in an emergency—such as could arise from the Berlin crisis.

The first arrivals were welcomed by a group of officers headed by Gen. Charles D. Palmer, deputy commander in chief of the U.S. European Command, and a French colonel representing Gen. Pierre Jacquet, commander of NATO forces in central Europe.

"Long Thrust" involves three reinforced battle groups of the 4th Infantry commanded by Maj. Gen. William F. Train, who is due in Frankfurt Wednesday. The troops will take part in a four-day NATO field exercise in eastern Bavaria.

A total of 87 transports—10 of them C135 stratosphere jets—will be involved in the airlift, flying four different routes. Some will make several trips.

From Frankfurt the troops will proceed by truck to the Mannheim area to collect their equipment, jeeps, trucks, Patton tanks, armored personnel carriers and guns.

The troops will remain in Mannheim, the U.S. Army's major supply and maintenance area in Germany, for about 10 days. Then they will go to the Hohenfels training area, in eastern Bavaria, for a four-day maneuver in which planes of the 4th Allied Tactical Air Force will also take part.

Following the field exercise, one battle group will fly back to McChord. The other two will join U.S. forces in Europe for several months' duty.

Missionaries Claimed Slain

Belgian Radio Blames Congolese Troops

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Congolese troops from Stanleyville have massacred 18 Roman Catholic missionaries and a large number of Africans in Kongo, in north Katanga Province, the Belgian radio said today.

The broadcast said the massacre was reported in Bukavu, Kivu Province, by a number of missionaries who escaped from Kongo after the town was taken over last month by the troops from Stanleyville.

President Moïse Tshombe of Katanga reported on Jan. 1 that his forces had abandoned Kongo and that the invaders were killing hundreds of civilians and burning villages as they advanced on the town.

Tshombe claimed that the invading troops were under the orders of the Central Congo government in Leopoldville, but reports since have indicated that they were loyal to pro-Communist Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, who was put under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville Sunday by central government troops.

Gizenga has been accused of dispatching troops into north Katanga in an effort to establish his own state in the northeast Congo.

Units of Gizenga's Stanleyville force were blamed for the murder of 13 Italian U.N. airmen in Kivu Province in November.

The troops in north Katanga and adjoining Kivu Province constitute the bulk of the Stanleyville army which took orders from Gizenga and Gen. Victor Lundula when it took orders from anyone.

Lundula switched his allegiance to the central government and commanded the troops in Stanleyville who put down an insurrection attempt by Gizenga over the weekend and disarmed more than 300 of his gendarmes, his only military force in the leftist's former stronghold.

The central Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula is expected to strip Gizenga of his deputy premiership and possibly also to put him under formal arrest in Leopoldville, and diplomats in the Congo capital fear there may be an adverse reaction from the troops in Kivu and north Katanga.

Lone Torpedo Boat Lost in Naval Action

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's government admitted today it lost a torpedo boat in a clash with Dutch forces off West New Guinea. But it scoffed at Dutch invasion charges and claimed the Dutch deliberately launched the attack in international waters.

Maj. Gen. Achmad Yani, head of Indonesia's recently created New Guinea operational staff, gave no indication of Indonesian casualties other than to say that only one vessel was lost.

In Hollandia, capital of Dutch New Guinea, the Dutch navy said one Indonesian torpedo boat sank one Indonesian torpedo boat Monday night and probably a second, drove off others, and took 50 Indonesians prisoner. A communication said rubber landing craft were recovered, indicating an invasion attempt, and that the clash occurred in New Guinea's territorial waters.

Dutch sources said the boat known to have been sunk carried 70 to 90 men—far more than a normal crew—and that presumably 20 to 40 men were not rescued.

The Dutch charged that the incident was "clear evidence of Indonesian military aggression to get a stronghold on New Guinea territory and to plant the red and white (Indonesian) flag."

Indonesian officials claimed their boat was sunk 25 miles off the New Guinea coast. They said Indonesia would accuse the Dutch of provocation in a complaint to U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant.

At the Hague, Dutch Prime Minister Jan de Quay said after an emergency Cabinet meeting his government also would express to the United Nations "our

Dominican Airmen Stage Power Show

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican air force staged a brief show of strength on the capital's main street Monday night as President Joaquin Balaguer and his military chief struggled with new efforts to unseat them.

Four air force tanks and a half-track loaded with about 40 armed troops roared down the nearly deserted main street just before midnight.

Oppositionists interpreted this as a show of strength by Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría, chief of the armed forces. Within half an hour over a dozen autos filled with people shouting, "Down with Rodriguez Echavarría" were driven through the area.

Later, about 20 youths marched down the street, shouting Fidel Castro slogans and screaming invectives at U.S. correspondents.

Rodriguez Echavarría has been accused by opponents of planning to install a military dictatorship. He denies this. He also has been accused of trying to keep Balaguer in office despite the Trujillo-named president's pledge to quit after the Organization of American States lifted economic and political sanctions it voted against the Trujillo dictatorship.

$10 Billion Debt Limit Hike Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today President Kennedy is requesting a $10-billion increase in the national debt limit.

Byrd announced a sweeping inquiry into the nation's financial condition.

The Virginia senator said in an interview he will ask the Senate Finance Committee, which he heads, to go into all aspects of federal spending and taxation before it acts on a proposed boost of the limit from $298 billion to a record-breaking $308 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said in a memorandum to Byrd and Rep. Wilbur Mills,

D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, that such an increase is necessary if the Treasury is to meet its future bills.

Dillon asked for a boost of $2 billion before March 1 and $8 billion for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. He said this would cover an estimated peak debt of $304.5 billion next Dec. 16 and give the Treasury about the $3 billion elbow room it needs to operate under the ceiling.

Byrd said he is willing to go along with the temporary increase to $300 billion because "the President told me personally that otherwise the government couldn't pay its bills."

"But before we make any further increase, I think the country should be told exactly where we stand financially," he said. "We have gone along the road of reckless spending and debt increases as far as we can go."

"I know of no more pressing duty on the Congress than to obtain a clear picture as possible of these unconscionable debts and then appraise the situation to find out what can be done about them. Our tax burden is the highest in history and to increase it substantially would have serious repercussions."

Noting that the country has been on a deficit financing basis in 26 of the last 31 years, Byrd said he thinks this year's bulge of expenditures may climb as high as $10 billion above receipts. The Treasury has forecast a $6.9-billion deficit.

"The President estimates a nominal surplus in the year beginning next July 1," Byrd said. "I predict another deficit because I do not believe revenues will rise by the $11 billion he is estimating."

Portugal Faces Attack in U.N.

African, Red Blocs Lash Angola Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Portugal faced bitter attacks from the Communist and African blocs today as foes of her policy in Angola pressed for condemnation and possible punitive measures by the United Nations.

Poland, cosponsor with Bulgaria of a resolution calling on the Security Council to consider harsh penalties against the Lisbon government, was slated to take the floor as the 104-nation General Assembly's Angola debate went into its second day.

The former French Congo also was expected to blast Portugal's administration of Angola and to demand freedom for the West African territory.

Informed sources expressed belief the African group would not seek penalties against Portugal but would limit its proposal to a call for condemnation and a demand for Angola's independence.

Any resolution will need Western support to ensure the two-thirds majority required for adoption. The United States reportedly has made clear it does not favor any call for economic sanctions against its NATO ally.

Diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them the United States wants to see a moderate resolution which would prod Portugal to grant self-determination for Angola.

Portuguese Ambassador Vasco Vieira Garin walked out of the debate with his delegation Monday and said he would take no part in discussions of charges of Portuguese terrorism in Angola.

In a heated address, Garin accused the United Nations of bias and described the debate as "mischievously designed, from which only evil can come to Angola and to this organization itself."

He indicated Portugal would not feel bound by any resolutions the assembly might put through against her policies in Angola.

Later, about 20 youths marched down the street, shouting Fidel Castro slogans and screaming invectives at U.S. correspondents.

Rodriguez Echavarría has been accused by opponents of planning to install a military dictatorship. He denies this. He also has been accused of trying to keep Balaguer in office despite the Trujillo-named president's pledge to quit after the Organization of American States lifted economic and political sanctions it voted against the Trujillo dictatorship.

Tax Returns To Be Filed By Vendors

All persons having Ohio Vendor's licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by January 31, 1962, for the period July 1 to Dec. 31, 1961, according to an announcement today by Edwin Walters, local State Tax Commission examiner.

Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than Jan. 31 to avoid a one dollar per day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have local examiners stationed at the Pickaway County Courthouse on Jan. 31.

Vendors seeking assistance from Walters will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales, and a record of taxable sales of 31 cents or more for the period July 1 to Dec. 31, 1961.

VENDORS will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the last half of 1961.

When completed, all returns must be mailed to the Treasurer of State, PO Box 1799, Columbus, O. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance either by check, draft or money order, made payable to the Treasurer of State in the amount of tax due, should accompany the return.

Khrush's Troubles at Home Mount

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev is apparently facing considerable difficulties at home, say U.S. specialists in Soviet affairs. But they add that the United States and its allies have no reason to rejoice.

This is the specialists' evaluation of such Kremlin riddles as the strange story of V. M. Molotov, the rift between Moscow and Peiping with tiny Albania in the middle, the whereabouts of Khrushchev himself, and a reported speech he made but which was not printed in the Soviet press.

The speech, in Minsk, was described in Moscow last week as a big one but there was no account at the time of what Khrushchev said.

Today Moscow radio came up with a story of a speech in Minsk—presumably the same one—which gave no indication the address was an earth-shaker.

These and other signs, say the observers, point to a struggle between Khrushchev and a strong Stalinist group in his party's Central Committee and possibly also in the secretariat, the inner sanctum of the party bureaucracy.

The Stalinist elements, the belief is here, do not form an organized group, but their number may be large and they exercise power both in the hierarchy and in the lower level of the party apparatus.

But this interpretation of Soviet goings-on does not particularly please Western observers. Though it is expected that Khrushchev will ultimately overcome any Stalinist opposition, he might be forced to take into account its views or return to Stalinist terror and eliminate the opposition.

It is questionable, however, that he could choose this second course.

Khrushchev, it is now believed here by many officials, does not exercise such a personal control over formulation of policy as Stalin did.

U.S. Testing Its Airlift Capability

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —The first elements of an Army force of 6,000 men arrived here from the United States today to test American ability to airlift troops abroad in a hurry.

A C135 transport carrying 72 officers and men of the 4th Infantry Division touched down at sprawling Rhine-Main base after a non-stop polar flight from McChord base in Washington.

The operation has been nicknamed "Long Thrust II."

Lt. Col. James Grimsley, 40, of Florence, S.C., divisions operations officer, headed the first 18 officers and 54 men who arrived by way of Greenland on a flight of 10 hours, 7 minutes.

"Welcome to Europe," said Gen. Charles D. Palmer, deputy commander in chief of U.S. forces in Europe as he stepped forward to greet Grimsley. "How was the flight?"

"Just fine," said Grimsley. Another C135 is due later today. From Wednesday until the airlift of the 6,000 men is completed next Saturday midnight planes will be landing here around the clock.

It is a major test of U.S. capability to rush troops to Europe in an emergency—such as could arise from the Berlin crisis.

The first arrivals were welcomed by a group of officers headed by Gen. Charles D. Palmer, deputy commander in chief of the U.S. European Command, and a French colonel representing Gen. Pierre Jaquaut, commander of NATO forces in central Europe.

"Long Thrust" involves three reinforced battle groups of the 4th Infantry commanded by Maj. Gen. William F. Train, who is due in Frankfurt Wednesday. The troops will take part in a four-day NATO field exercise in eastern Bavaria.

A total of 87 transports—10 of them C135 stratosphere jets—will be involved in the airlift, flying four different routes. Some will make several trips.

From Frankfurt the troops will proceed by truck to the Mannheim area to collect their equipment, jeeps, trucks, Patton tanks, armored personnel carriers and guns.

The troops will remain in Mannheim, the U.S. Army's major supply and maintenance area in Germany, for about 10 days. Then they will go to the Hohenfels training area, in eastern Bavaria, for a four-day maneuver in which planes of the 4th Allied Tactical Air Force will also take part.

Following the field exercise, one battle group will fly back to McChord. The other two will join U.S. forces in Europe for several months' duty.

Missionaries Claimed Slain

Belgian Radio Blames Congolese Troops

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Congolese troops from Stanleyville have massacred 18 Roman Catholic missionaries and a large number of Africans in Kongo, in north Katanga Province, the Belgian radio said today.

The broadcast said the massacre was reported in Bukavu, Kivu Province, by a number of missionaries who escaped from Kongo after the town was taken over last month by the troops from Stanleyville.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga reported on Jan. 1 that his forces had abandoned Kongo and that the invaders were killing hundreds of civilians and burning villages as they advanced on the town.

Tshombe claimed that the invading troops were under the orders of the Central Congo government in Leopoldville, but reports since have indicated that they were loyal to pro-Communist Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, who was put under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville Sunday by central government troops.

Gizenga has been accused of dispatching troops into north Katanga in an effort to establish his own state in the northeast Congo. Units of Gizenga's Stanleyville force were blamed for the murder of 13 Italian U.N. airmen in Kivu Province in November.

The troops in north Katanga and adjoining Kivu Province constitute the bulk of the Stanleyville army which took orders from Gizenga and Gen. Victor Lundula when it took orders from anyone.

Lundula switched his allegiance to the central government and commanded the troops in Stanleyville who put down an insurrection attempt by Gizenga over the weekend and disarmed more than 300 of his gendarmes, his only military force in the leftist's former stronghold.

The central Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula is expected to strip Gizenga of his deputy premiership and possibly even put him under formal arrest in Leopoldville, and diplomats in the Congo capital fear there may be an adverse reaction from the troops in Kivu and north Katanga.

Lone Torpedo Boat Lost in Naval Action

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's government admitted today it lost a torpedo boat in a clash with Dutch forces off West New Guinea. But it scoffed at Dutch invasion charges and claimed the Dutch deliberately launched the attack in international waters.

Maj. Gen. Achmad Yani, head of Indonesia's recently created New Guinea operational staff, gave no indication of Indonesian casualties other than to say that only one vessel was lost.

In Hollandia, capital of Dutch New Guinea, the Dutch navy said Dutch naval and air units sank one Indonesian torpedo boat Monday night and probably a second, drove off others, and took 50 Indonesians prisoner. A communiqué said rubber landing craft were recovered, indicating an invasion attempt, and that the clash occurred in New Guinea's territorial waters.

Dutch sources said the boat known to have been sunk carried 70 to 90 men—far more than a normal crew—and that presumably 20 to 40 men were not rescued.

The Dutch charged that the incident was "clear evidence of Indonesian military aggression to get a stronghold on New Guinea territory and to plant the red and white (Indonesian) flag."

Indonesian officials claimed their boat was sunk 25 miles off the New Guinea coast. They said Indonesia would accuse the Dutch of provocation in a complaint to U.N. acting Secretary-General U. Thant.

At the Hague, Dutch Prime Minister Jan de Quay said after an emergency Cabinet meeting his government also would express to the United Nations "our

Dominican Airmen Stage Power Show

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican air force staged a brief show of strength on the capital's main street Monday night as President Joaquin Balaguer and his military chief struggled with new efforts to unseat them.

Four air force tanks and a half-track loaded with about 40 armed troops roared down the nearly deserted main street just before midnight.

Oppositionists interpreted this as a show of strength by Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, chief of the armed forces. Within half an hour over a dozen autos filled with people shouting, "Down with Rodriguez Echavarria!" were driven through the area.

Later, about 20 youths marched down the street, shouting Fidel Castro slogans and screaming invectives at U.S. correspondents.

Rodriguez Echavarria has been accused by opponents of plotting to install a military dictatorship. He denies this. He also has been accused of trying to keep Balaguer in office despite the Trujillo-named president's pledge to quit after the Organization of American States lifted economic and political sanctions it voted against the Trujillo dictatorship.

$10 Billion Debt Limit Hike Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today President Kennedy is requesting a $10-billion increase in the national debt limit.

Byrd announced a sweeping inquiry into the nation's financial condition.

The Virginia senator said in an interview he will ask the Senate Finance Committee, which he heads, to go into all aspects of federal spending and taxation before it acts on a proposed boost of the limit from $298 billion to a record-breaking $308 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said in a memorandum to Byrd and Rep. Wilbur Mills,

D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, that such an increase is necessary if the Treasury is to meet its future bills.

Dillon asked for a boost of $2 billion before March 1 and $8 billion for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. He said this would cover an estimated peak debt of $304.5 billion next Dec. 16 and give the Treasury about the $3 billion elbow room it needs to operate under the ceiling.

Byrd said he is willing to go along with the temporary increase to $300 billion because "the President told me personally that otherwise the government couldn't pay its bills."

"But before we make any further increase, I think the country should be told exactly where we stand financially," he said. "We have gone along the road of reckless spending and debt increases as far as we can go."

"I know of no more pressing duty on the Congress than to obtain a clear picture as possible of these unconscionable debts and then appraise the situation to find out what can be done about them. Our tax burden is the highest in history and to increase it substantially would have serious repercussions."

Noting that the country has been on a deficit financing basis in 26 of the last 31 years, Byrd said he thinks this year's bulge of expenditures may climb as high as $10 billion above receipts. The Treasury has forecast a $6.9-billion deficit.

"The President estimates a nominal surplus in the year beginning next July 1," Byrd said. "I predict another deficit because I do not believe revenues will rise by the $11 billion he is estimating."

Tax Returns To Be Filed By Vendors

All persons having Ohio Vendor's licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by January 31, 1962, for the period July 1 to Dec. 31, 1961, according to an announcement today by Edwin Walters, local State Tax Commission examiner.

Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than Jan. 31 to avoid a one dollar per day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have local examiners stationed at the Pickaway County Courthouse on Jan. 31.

Vendors seeking assistance from Walters will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales, and a record of taxable sales of 31 cents or more for the period July 1 to Dec. 31, 1961.

VENDORS will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the last half of 1961.

When completed, all returns must be mailed to the Treasurer of State, P.O. Box 1799, Columbus, O. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance either by check, draft or money order, made payable to the Treasurer of State in the amount of tax due, should accompany the return.

Films May Tell Fate Of Big Space Balloon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Television and movie films taken in space are expected to pinpoint the trouble which caused a big space balloon to split apart high above the Atlantic Ocean.

Project officials theorized after the breakup Monday that perhaps the balloon carried too much air when it was launched, folded neatly in a canister aboard a single-stage Thor rocket.

A small amount of air was left in the bundle of plastic to help start the inflation process.

Portugal Faces Attack in U.N.

African, Red Blocs Lash Angola Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Portugal faced bitter attacks from the Communist and African blocs today as foes of her policy in Angola pressed for condemnation and possible punitive measures by the United Nations.

Poland, cosponsor with Bulgaria of a resolution calling on the Security Council to consider harsh penalties against the Lisbon government, was slated to take the floor as the 104-nation General Assembly's Angola debate went into its second day.

The former French Congo also was expected to blast Portugal's administration of Angola and to demand freedom for the West African territory.

Informed sources expressed belief the African group would not seek penalties against Portugal but would limit its proposal to a call for condemnation and a demand for Angola's independence.

Any resolution will need Western support to ensure the two-thirds majority required for adoption. The United States reportedly has made clear it does not favor any call for economic sanctions against its NATO ally.

Diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them the United States wants to see a moderate resolution which would prod Portugal to grant self-determination for Angola.

Portuguese Ambassador Vasco Vieira Garin walked out of the debate with his delegation Monday and said he would take no part in discussions of charges of Portuguese terrorism in Angola.

In a heated address, Garin accused the United Nations of bias and described the debate as "mischievously designed, from which only evil can come to Angola and to this organization itself."

He indicated Portugal would not feel bound by any resolutions the assembly might put through against her policies in Angola.

Aid, Space Fund Hikes To Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increases in foreign aid and civilian space program spending will be asked by President Kennedy in his annual budget message Thursday, informed sources say.

The foreign aid request is expected to be for $4.89,000,000, most since President Dwight D. Eisenhower asked for $5,125,000,000 in 1953. The new figure is about $135 million more than Kennedy asked for the current year and about $640 million more than Congress approved.

The amount to be asked for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will be almost $4 billion, informants say. That would be more than double the amount budgeted for space projects this year by Congress.

Khrush's Troubles at Home Mount

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is apparently facing considerable difficulties at home, say U.S. specialists in Soviet affairs. But they add that the United States and its allies have no reason to rejoice.

This is the specialists' evaluation of such Kremlin riddles as the strange story of V. M. Molotov, the rift between Moscow and Peiping with tiny Albania in the middle, the whereabouts of Khrushchev himself, and a reported speech he made but which was not printed in the Soviet press.

The speech, in Minsk, was described in Moscow last week as a big one but there was no account at the time of what Khrushchev said.

Today Moscow radio came up with a story of a speech in Minsk—presumably the same one—which gave no indication the address was an earth-shaker.

These and other signs, say the observers, point to a struggle between Khrushchev and a strong Stalinist group in his party's Central Committee and possibly also in the secretariat, the inner sanctum of the party bureaucracy.

The Stalinist elements, the belief is here, do not form an organized group, but their number may be large and they exercise power both in the hierarchy and in the lower level of the party apparatus.

But this interpretation of Soviet goings-on does not particularly please Western observers. Though it is expected that Khrushchev will ultimately overcome any Stalinist opposition, he might be forced to take into account its views or return to Stalinist terror and eliminate the opposition.

It is questionable, however, that he could choose this second course.

Khrushchev, it is now believed here by many officials, does not exercise such a personal control over formulation of policy as Stalin did.

Mrs. Bumgarner New Chairman Of Farm Bureau Women's Unit

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, Route 2, was named new chairman of the Southeastern Farm Bureau Regional Women's Committee during a meeting Monday of the Pickaway County Women's Council.

Mrs. Bumgarner, who succeeds Mrs. Floyd Zwickel of Fairfield County, will direct all regional meetings for 1962, including the Women's Rally which normally draws approximately 500 Farm Bureau women and guests.

It was also announced during Monday's meeting that the main project of the County Committee this year is a Safety Program to be carried through the advisory councils. The council winning the contest will be awarded a prize for all members.

The local group made plans for contributions and materials to be donated to the local Class for Exceptional (Retarded) Children.

Driver Forfeits Bond in Fatal Traffic Case

Jennie L. Grabill, 74, Columbus, driver of a car involved in a fatal accident north of here on Nov. 12, forfeited a $24 bond yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court on a charge of failure to yield the right of way prior to the crash.

Killed was Mrs. Florence Jones, 74, a passenger in the Grabill car. The accident, investigated by the State Highway Patrol, was at Route 23 and County Road 311.

The court case had been postponed due to injuries suffered by Mrs. Grabill.

In other business yesterday and today the court made disposition on four speeding cases. Cited by State Patrol were:

Richard E. Noggle, 18, Ashville: $50 and costs for speeding at 100 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Wetzel C. Moore, 31, New Boston, and Earl E. Carney, 27, Rosemead, Calif.: each fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Marion N. Joseph, 46, Athens: $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

White Barber Is Questioned On Refusal To Cut Negro Hair

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)

—A veteran barber told an Ohio Civil Rights Commission examiner today he doesn't know how to cut a Negro's hair and would rather close his shop than accept Negro customers.

The testimony came from Lewis Gagner before a packed hearing room in the first test case of Ohio's new anti-discrimination law in the field of public accommodations.

The crowd was divided about equally between whites and Negroes. The hearing was held in the village hall of this town of about 4,200 in Green County, home of Antioch College.

Before Gagner's testimony, Paul N. Graham, 32, year-old chemist at the Fernald Laboratories here, told the examiner, Ohio State University law professor Roland J. Stanger that he was told by Gagner last Nov. 9: "I can't cut your hair; I don't know how. That's all there is to it."

Graham testified that after the refusal he simply put on his coat and left the shop. The incident occurred only 16 days after the new Ohio law went into effect. The law prohibits racial discrimination in any place of business open to the public such as restaurants, theaters and barber and beauty shops.

Most of the morning testimony concerned a common pleas court trial involving Gagner's conviction under a Yellow Springs ordinance in 1960.

First Assistant Atty. Gen. Theodore Saker reminded Gagner at length of his testimony in that case. Reference was made to a meeting of barbers and beauty shop operators in April, 1960, in which Robert Porter of Yellow Springs, one of those attending the meeting, quoted Gagner as saying that before he would integrate his shop he would sell it and go out of business.

Porter further quoted Gagner as saying that he feared his business would be ruined if he accepted Negro customers.

Gagner conceded that if Porter had testified as to those quotations they probably were correct.

Saker asked Gagner if he still felt his business would be ruined if he agreed to accept Negroes, and Gagner said he did. Gagner denied, however, that his statement that he does not know how to cut a Negro's hair is an excuse or smoke-screen to cover his refusal to accept Negro customers.

There will be no immediate decision coming out of today's hearing. Stanger will study the testimony and make a recommendation to the commission at a later date.

Westfall Seeks $40,000 Loan

Special Meeting Set Tomorrow

The Westfall District school board, confronted with the need to reorganize its high school program to meet minimum state standards, took time out last night to resolve another pressing matter — the January payroll.

Board members approved a resolution calling for borrowing power of $40,000 by school officials to meet this month's wages. The funds are to be borrowed against anticipated district tax revenues.

The board also took a long look at the general Westfall salary schedule and discussed matters of policy.

District residents will have an opportunity to discuss high school difficulties at 8 p. m. tomorrow during a special meeting in Monroe Twp. School.

GLENN RICH, supervisor of elementary and secondary education for Ohio, and Byron Morton, assistant state superintendent of schools, will conduct a public forum on the action taken by the state school board in moving to revoke Westfall's four secondary charters. The two educators are to hold an information period on questions from the audience after their scheduled talks.

High schools in the district are Monroe, Darby, Jackson and Williamsport-Atlanta. County Superintendent George McDowell urged district adults to attend the meeting.

Scioto Downs Favors Dunlap

John H. Dunlap Jr., Route 1,

Williamsport, is one of two men proposed as new directors for Scioto Downs, Inc.

A Franklin County Common Plea Court ruling yesterday cleared the way for the ousting of two directors from the current Scioto Downs board. Dunlap is one of the men nominated by Scioto Downs management to replace them. The other is Carl A. Kull, Marion.

The common pleas ruling refused to give Commonwealth Securities, underwriter of Scioto Downs' original stock issue, an injunction which would have blocked election of a board at the annual meeting scheduled today.

Commonwealth sought a temporary order to halt the election, contending its underwriting agreement with Scioto Downs called for control of two seats on the board.

In refusing the order, the court said the underwriting agreement could not be enforced under Ohio Statutes because it would be an unlawful interference with rights of shareholders to elect company directors.

concern about the Indonesian attack."

He said the Dutch would assure the United Nations "that we remain willing to start negotiations at once" with Indonesia on the future of West New Guinea, which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened to take by invasion if the Dutch do not give it up. Thant, in similar cables to Sukarno and De Quay, expressed deep concern over the clash and again urged both countries to seek a peaceful settlement.

Indonesian and Dutch accounts of the clash differed considerably.

The Dutch said their air and naval units patrolling off the south coast of Dutch New Guinea encountered the group of Soviet-built torpedo boats and the Indonesians fired on a Dutch plane. The Dutch plane returned the fire, the Dutch said, and then the long exchange.

Jani said a Dutch force of one destroyer, one frigate and one plane attacked the Indonesian vessels without warning, and that Indonesian boats were engaged in "purely patrol activity."

No one—even a civilian—with any knowledge of naval matters would imagine that a group of motor torpedo boats constituted an invasion force," he said.

Scout Division Fund Kick-Off Slated at WCH

The Scout Family Division of the public phase of the $750,000 Boy Scout Camp Capital Development Fund campaign will be kicked off in Area C an "Early Bird" breakfast at 9 a. m. Jan. 27, at the Methodist Church in Washington Court House, according to an announcement made today by Ed Grigg, area chairman.

The Scout Family Division in each district is headed by the Area C includes Pickaway County headed by Ed Ebert; Fayette County, Fred Allen; and Highland County by Dean Waddell.

At that time, Unit team captains and their workers will hear the camping needs of the Boy Scouts in the Central Ohio Council, receive the information brochure along with final instructions for the campaign, and select their prospect cards.

Solicitation will begin immediately after the breakfast and continue until March 21.

MONEY raised in this campaign will be used to construct two camps on the 1,126 acre Greenhills Reservation in Hocking County; to rehabilitate and remodel Camp Lazarus in Delaware County and to erect minimum facilities in the five short-term or week-end camps now operated by the council.

The initial gifts phase of the campaign was launched in the council in mid-December and has already produced $265,000 in subscriptions.

Gets New Term On Election Board

Milton P. Manson, Route 4, was appointed to a four-year term as a Democrat member of the Pickaway County Board of Elections yesterday during a meeting of the local Democrat Executive Committee.

Manson was appointed Oct. 8, 1960, to serve the unexpired term of the late Virgil May. Manson's new term, which is effective March 1, will expire Feb. 28, 1966.

Jack McCann, Waverly, seeking the nomination for Democrat candidate for congressman of the Sixth District, was a special guest speaker during the meeting of the political group.

It was announced that the deadline for filing petitions for central committeemen is Feb. 7. It was noted that only five signatures are required for the petition.

Only signatures of qualified voters of the applicant's ward will be accepted.

Most of the rest of the world celebrated Christmas on Dec. 25, but the Italian city of Bari won't mark the holiday until June.

One day next summer, plans call for a gayly-festooned statue of Saint Nicholas to be pulled from Bari's City Hall to the shores of Bari is proud it possesses the remains of the original Santa Claus — even though it acquired them rather illegally. The saint passed on in the year 345 and was buried in the ancient Greek city of Myra.

Centuries later, in 1057, three Italian merchants went to Myra, had the bones unburied, and smuggled them home to Bari.

Saint Nicholas' reputation for working miracles was enhanced the very day he was reburied. Some 30 persons suddenly recovered from various physical ailments and attributed their new-found health to the saint.

Santa Claus is indeed remembered for other things besides his goodness to children. Because he is said to have quieted a storm while voyaging to the Holy Land, Saint Nicholas is the patron saint of mariners and travellers.

Because he is supposed to have returned to life three schoolboys slain by an innkeeper, he is the patron of young scholars. For other good deeds, he also is known as the patron of merchants, thieves, bakers and young girls.

Bari reveres his memory because the city believes he protected it during World War II when German and Allied armies clashed all around it. Water flowing through the rock which forms his tomb in Bari is bottled, and prized for its beneficial powers. And Rome has no fewer than 60 churches dedicated to Saint Nicholas!

The Italian conception of Santa Claus bears no relation to the fat, jolly elf we recognize. Instead, he is known as a tall and dignified man, clad in delicately-embroidered robes. Saint Nicholas' generosity is symbolized, not by a bag of toys on his back but by three purses which he carries and from which he gives alms.

Saint Nicholas

the Adriatic Sea. There the figure of Father Christmas will be loaded onto a municipal fireboat and taken out to sea.

When night falls, Bari will become the scene of singing, dancing and brilliant fireworks as the figure of the good saint is brought back to port again. The climax will be the great rejoicing as the statue rolls through the streets once more.

Why this Christmas-in-June celebration? Bari wants to show how proud it is that in another June, 866 years ago, the bones of generous Saint Nicholas were buried beneath the local cathedral.

White Barber Is Questioned On Refusal To Cut Negro Hair

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—A veteran barber told an Ohio Civil Rights Commission examiner today he doesn't know how to cut a Negro's hair and would rather close his shop than accept Negro customers.

The testimony came from Lewis Geger before a packed hearing room in the first test case of Ohio's new anti-discrimination law in the field of public accommodations.

The crowd was divided about equally between whites and Negroes. The hearing was held in the village hall of this town of about 4,200 in Green County, home of Antioch College.

Before Geger's testimony, Paul N. Graham, 32, year-old chemist

at the Fernald Laboratories here, told the examiner, Ohio State University law professor Roland J. Stanger that he was told by Geger last Nov. 9: "I can't cut your hair; I don't know how. That's all there is to it."

Graham testified that after the refusal he simply put on his coat and left the shop. The incident occurred only 16 days after the new Ohio law went into effect. The law prohibits racial discrimination in any place of business open to the public such as restaurants, theaters and barber and beauty shops.

Most of the morning testimony concerned a common pleas court trial involving Geger's conviction under a Yellow Springs ordinance in 1960.

First Assistant Atty. Gen. Theodore Saker reminded Geger at length of his testimony in that case. Reference was made to a meeting of barbers and beauty shop operators in April, 1959, in which Robert Porter of Yellow Springs, one of those attending the meeting, quoted Geger as saying that before he would integrate his shop he would sell it and go out of business.

Porter further quoted Geger as saying that he feared his business would be ruined if he accepted Negro customers.

Geger conceded that if Porter had testified as to those quotations they probably were correct.

Saker asked Geger if he still felt his business would be ruined if he agreed to accept Negroes, and Geger said he did. Geger denied, however, that his statement that he does not know how to cut a Negro's hair is an excuse or smoke-screen to cover his refusal to accept Negro customers.

There will be no immediate decision coming out of today's hearing. Stanger will study the testimony and make a recommendation to the commission at a later date.

Westfall Seeks $40,000 Loan

Special Meeting Set Tomorrow

The Westfall District school board, confronted with the need to reorganize its high school program to meet minimum state standards, took time out last night to resolve another pressing matter — the January payroll.

Board members approved a resolution calling for borrowing power of $40,000 by school officials to meet this month's wages. The funds are to be borrowed against anticipated district tax revenues.

The board also took a long look at the general Westfall salary schedule and discussed matters of policy.

District residents will have an opportunity to discuss high school difficulties at 8 p. m. tomorrow during a special meeting in Monroe Twp. School.

GLENN RICH, supervisor of elementary and secondary education for Ohio, and Byron Morton, assistant state superintendent of schools, will conduct a public forum on the action taken by the state school board in moving to revoke Westfall's four secondary charters. The two educators are to hold an information period on questions from the audience after their scheduled talks.

High schools in the district are Monroe, Darby, Jackson and Williamsport-Atlanta. County Superintendent George McDowell urged district adults to attend the meeting.

concern about the Indonesian attack."

He said the Dutch would assure the United Nations "that we remain willing to start negotiations at once" with Indonesia on the future of West New Guinea, which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened to take by invasion if the Dutch do not give it up. Thant, in similar cables to Sukarno and De Quay, expressed deep concern over the clash and again urged both countries to seek a peaceful settlement.

Indonesian and Dutch accounts of the clash differed considerably. The Dutch said their air and naval units patrolling off the south coast of Dutch New Guinea encountered the group of Soviet-built torpedo boats and the Indonesians fired on a Dutch plane. The Dutch plane returned the fire, the Dutch said, and then the long exchange.

Jani said a Dutch force of one destroyer, one frigate and one plane attacked the Indonesian vessels without warning, and that Indonesian boats were engaged in "purely patrol activity."

No one—even a civilian—with any knowledge of naval matters would imagine that a group of motor torpedo boats constituted an invasion force," he said.

Scout Division Fund Kick-Off Slated at WCH

The Scout Family Division of the public phase of the $750,000 Boy Scout Camp Capital Development Fund campaign will be kicked off in Area C an "Early Bird" breakfast at 9 a. m. Jan. 27, at the Methodist Church in Washington Court House, according to an announcement made today by Ed Grigg, area chairman.

The Scout Family Division in each district is headed by the Area C includes Pickaway County headed by Ed Ebert; Fayette County, Fred Allen; and Highland County by Dean Waddell.

At that time, Unit team captains and their workers will hear the camping needs of the Boy Scouts in the Central Ohio Council, receive the information brochure along with final instructions for the campaign, and select their prospect cards.

Solicitation will begin immediately after the breakfast and continue until March 21.

MONEY raised in this campaign will be used to construct two camps on the 1,126 acre Greenhills Reservation in Hocking County; to rehabilitate and remodel Camp Lazarus in Delaware County and to erect minimum facilities in the five short-term or week-end camps now operated by the council.

The initial gifts phase of the campaign was launched in the council in mid-December and has already produced $265,000 in subscriptions.

Milton P. Manson Gets New Term On Election Board

Milton P. Manson, Route 4, was appointed to a four-year term as a Democrat member of the Pickaway County Board of Elections yesterday during a meeting of the local Democrat Executive Committee.

Manson was appointed Oct. 8, 1960, to serve the unexpired term of the late Virgil May. Manson's new term, which is effective March 1, will expire Feb. 28, 1966.

Jack McCann, Waverly, seeking the nomination for Democrat candidate for congressman of the Sixth District, was a special guest speaker during the meeting of the political group.

It was announced that the deadline for filing petitions for central committeemen is Feb. 7. It was noted that only five signatures are required for the petition.

Only signatures of qualified voters of the applicant's ward will be accepted.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) —After a bumpy first 12 months both Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower headed into their second White House year in a kind of temporary twilight between afternoon and evening storms.

This was reflected Monday in Kennedy's first news conference of 1962. Neither the questions nor answers had a jumpy sense of tension. As news conferences go, Monday's was pretty dull.

It was much the same on Jan. 13 eight years ago when Eisenhower had his first 1954 meeting with the press.

Both men in their first year had been through a grinding chopper. Worse was to come for Eisenhower.

K of P Names Committeemen

Committees for 1962 were announced last night by Vaughn Reichelderfer, newly elected chancellor of Phi Kappa Psi.

Reichelderfer named 10 committees to serve during his tenure. They are:

Membership — Lloyd Fisher, R. S. Denman and Charles Winner; Attendance — Allen Ankrom, Ray Winner and Vaughn Reichelderfer;

Delinquent members—Raymond Reichelderfer, Vaughn Reichelderfer and Lloyd Fisher; Entertainment — Robert Barnes, Ernest Young and Gary Winner;

Public relations—Russell Adams, Walter Leist and George Wharton; Publicity — Cecil Andrews, Marvin Cook and Paul Smallwood; Proficiency — R. S. Denman, T. M. Glick and Frank Woodward; Fellowship — Glenn Justice, Orren Stout and Harry Styrer; or as it certainly will for Kennedy. The mid-January doldrums for both were an illusion of quietude.

Finance — George Mast, O. E. Barr and Cecil Andrews; Youth welfare — Azel Laughlin, Frank Woodward and Charles Allison.

In 1953 Eisenhower had brought the Korean War to an end but the battle between his administration and Sen. Joseph McCarthy already had begun.

Eisenhower in 1953 didn't have as much to worry about from Russia as Kennedy does now. It wasn't until late summer of 1953 that Russia had its first hydrogen explosion. It didn't have missiles then, either.

That very difference was at the root of Kennedy's most critical problem in 1961: how to keep Russia from taking over Berlin without getting into war.

Both men, by the time they had held their first news conference in January of their second year, had already delivered to Congress the outline of their second year's program in their State of the Union message.

There was a similarity between these messages. Much of both was routine although both suggested pushing the country's welfare programs forward a bit.

The response both men got

Washington C.H. Man Held in Traffic Deaths

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Bond of $2,000 has been continued for a Washington Court House man whose truck was involved in a traffic accident last Friday in which a Cleveland couple was killed.

Sherley Albert Meadows Jr., 28, was driving a truck that hit the rear of a car on Interstate 71, killing Roosevelt Gibson, 58, and his wife, Lillie, 44, officials say. Meadows pleaded innocent in municipal court to a traffic charge stemming from that accident.

A preliminary hearing for Meadows is pending on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

By James Marlow

from Congress could hardly be called overwhelmingly enthusiastic, particularly on Eisenhower's ideas about a new farm program and Kennedy's plea for tariff-cutting powers.

Both men delivered their messages at the beginning of a congressional election year. That explained, but only in part, the mixed reaction they got from Democrats and Republicans.

Kennedy, despite what looked like a great zest for news conferences when he took office, has lagged behind Eisenhower who made less today about them.

After almost precisely the same amount of time in the presidency Kennedy has held only 20 news conferences to Eisenhower's 24.

It was only a few weeks after Eisenhower's first and unexciting news conference of 1954 that a dogout fight with McCarthy really got under way.

Kennedy at this time can only guess at what is in store for him. He knows he will have some more difficulty with Premier Khrushchev. He doesn't know how much. He doesn't know what may explode in Asia.

Hog Prices To Escape as Election Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department farm price forecast indicates the price of hogs will not be an issue of consequence in congressional elections in the Midwest farm belt next fall.

These prices often have been issues on which parties out of power have made gains in congressional seats in off-year elections. When hog and other livestock prices decline, there usually is a tendency on the part of political leaders and some farmers to blame the party in power.

A department report on the livestock and meat situation said it is likely that hog prices next fall will be little different from last fall. If that turns out to be correct, hog farmers will have little to complain about.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that Canada has set a price support of $23.65 a hundred pounds for hogs this year. This is an increase of $1 over the 1961 support.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says farm wage rates early this month slowed slightly but consistent increases over a year earlier.

For the country as a whole, rates averaged 95.2 cents an hour compared with 90.9 cents a year ago, an increase of 12 per cent over the 1957-59 January average.

The department said rates for 1961 averaged 83.4 cents an hour compared with 81.8 cents for 1960.

Ex-Pottery Chieftain Sued by Old Company

CLEVELAND (AP) — Irving B. Garber, former president of the National Pottery Corp. of Bedford, is being sued in common pleas court for $1 million by his old company.

Daniel R. McCarthy, secretary of the company, alleged in a petition that Garber conspired to set up the International Artware Corp. which he now heads while still with the old company. Garber, who lives in suburban University Heights, denied any conspiracy.

Ohio Astronaut Finely-Tuned, Ready For His Rocket Ride Around Globe

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — John H. Glenn Jr., balding 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel, is about to embark on one of the greatest adventures ever undertaken by an American.

On Tuesday, Jan. 23, Glenn is scheduled to ride a powerful Atlas rocket into orbit about the earth. Streaking through space at 17,500 miles an hour, his capsule is intended to make three circuits of the globe in 4½ hours.

The results will help establish guidelines for this nation's future course in space.

At altitudes up to 150 miles, astronaut Glenn will have a breathtaking look at the earth below. Each glance will afford a stunning panoramic view stretching 1,800 miles from horizon to horizon.

Continents and oceans will skip from sight in minutes. The capsule will whip through alternate periods of daylight and darkness as it sweeps into the shadow of the earth, then emerges again in to sunlight.

At times, Glenn, honed by months of training, will roll his spacecraft over to gaze at the stars and heavens through a wide-angle window. Undistorted by the earth's atmosphere, the stars will appear as they truly are — unblinking in brilliant red, yellow, blue and white hues.

For all but a few minutes, Glenn will be in a weird and exhilarating world of weightlessness. He will have a sensation of free-falling through an endless void.

How man is able to function in a weightless state on prolonged space journeys is a major enigma the Mercury orbital flights aim to solve.

On his 17-orbit flight last Aug. 6, Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov reported that most of the time he suffered a vertigo sickness, or dizziness. He said it was especially pronounced when he turned his head sharply or observed swiftly moving objects outside his Vostok II spacecraft.

The first man to orbit the earth, Russian Yuri Gagarin, reported no such discomfort on his one trip around the globe on April 12, 1961. Nor did American Astronaut Alan B. Sheppard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom on their brief 15-minute space rides on May 5 and July 12 last year. Some U.S. experts theorize that perhaps Titov is more sensitive to weightlessness than other men. They feel the performance of Glenn and other American astronauts, who they believe are more mature and experienced pilots than the Russian cosmonauts, will set a better guide.

Medical men also believe weightlessness of several days or weeks duration might rob a spaceman of his muscle tone, in effect make him flabby. They say exercises, perhaps as spring devices or merely pushing against the side of the spaceship, will be necessary on long trips.

Glenn plans regular periods of exercise on his flight to test his ability to do them. The upside down flying, while enabling him to peer at the stars, also will provide valuable data on how disorientation affects his senses.

During the flight, Glenn is to try changing the roll, pitch and yaw of his craft with the attitude control stick. He will make in-flight readings and call on his training in astronomy and geography to identify heavenly bodies and earth landmarks. And he will attempt eating by squeezing food from a tube-like container.

The spacecraft's course, dependent on precision performance by the Atlas booster, is carefully calculated so Glenn will be in constant touch with the worldwide tracking network of 18 ground stations.

At all times, specialists on the ground want to know the condition of capsule and pilot. If something goes wrong, they will be ready to order the craft back to earth by sending a radio signal to fire a series of reverse rockets at the base of the vehicle.

The vital communications links tying Glenn to the earth are at Cape Canaveral, Bermuda, a ship in the Atlantic, two stations in Africa, a ship in the Indian Ocean, two stations in Australia, Canton Island in the Pacific, Hawaii, California, Mexico, Texas and Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Doctors, engineers and other experts will be at each post, listening to Glenn's voice, receiving and analyzing data radioed from scores of capsule sensors and instruments attached to the pilot's body.

Information is relayed by high-speed transmission facilities to computers in Beltsville, Md., for analysis and then on to the control center at Cape Canaveral for necessary action. A bit of data will take only one second to travel from capsule to control center.

If all goes well, the reverse rockets will be triggered as the capsule passes over California near the end of the third orbit. This will slow the spacecraft and it gradually will descend across the southern United States for a landing in the Atlantic Ocean near Gand Turk Island, about 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

As the capsule drops, the weightless feeling will vanish and Glenn suddenly will be gripped by tremendous forces up to 10 times the force of gravity during the plunge through the thickening atmosphere. He will be protected from re-entry heat of several hundred degrees by a heat shield at the base of the capsule and by the craft's environmental control system which maintains a steady, comfortable temperature.

A parachute will ease the landing and a large recovery fleet will be standing by to pick up America's newest space hero.

As the time nears for his historic flight, Glenn's final preparations include repeated simulated flights in a ground-based capsule, thorough familiarization with the actual spacecraft and additional astronomy and geography study. He is quartered in a special "ready room," a comfortable apartment in hangars at Cape Canaveral.

Working closely with him is the backup pilot for the flight, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Scott Carpenter.

Glenn's wife, Anne, and children, David, 15, and Carolyn, 14, are at their home in Arlington, Va. They will be there the day of the launching.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has done everything possible to insure Glenn's safe return, even if something goes wrong.

Freeze Cited As Vegetable Prices Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Vegetable prices are rising because of severe damage to crops in Texas and Florida as the result of freezing weather, the Department of Agriculture reported today.

Citrus also was badly damaged in Texas but apparently escaped major harm in Florida.

The department called the situation in the Rio Grande Valley "very serious." The temperature fell to as low as 10 degrees there last week.

The cold wave spread over 100,000 acres of vegetable fields in the valley.

The department said the anticipated shortage of supplies already has been felt on the market.

High winds added to the damage to citrus trees in the Rio Grande Valley. The department said the loss of trees under five years old was heavy.

At the time of the freeze two-thirds of the 6.5-million box Rio Grande Valley grapefruit crop remained on the trees. About one-third of the expected 1.9 million boxes of early oranges had not been harvested, and the harvest of 1.8 million boxes of Valencia oranges had not been started.

Three-fourths of the 70 per cent of winter cabbage remaining to be harvested is expected to be lost, according to the department. Also severely damaged were beets, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce and spinach.

Sweet corn, potatoes, tomatoes and green peppers which were above ground will have to be replanted.

Three successive freezes damaged Florida's soft vegetable crops and sent prices up in producing areas.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) —After a bumpy first 12 months both Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower headed into their second White House year in a kind of temporary twilight between afternoon and evening storms.

This was reflected Monday in Kennedy's first news conference of 1962. Neither the questions nor answers had a jumpy sense of tension. As news conferences go, Monday's was pretty dull.

It was much the same on Jan. 13 eight years ago when Eisenhower had his first 1954 meeting with the press.

Both men in their first year had been through a grinding chopper. Worse was to come for Eisenhower.

K of P Names Committeemen

Committees for 1962 were announced last night by Vaughn Reichelderfer, newly elected chancellor commander of Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias.

Reichelderfer named 10 committeemen to serve during his tenure. They are:

Membership — Lloyd Fisher, R. S. Denman and Charles Winner; Attendance — Allen Ankrom, Ray Winner and Vaughn Reichelderfer.

Delinquent members—Raymond Reichelderfer, Vaughn Reichelderfer and Lloyd Fisher; Entertainment — Robert Barnes, Ernest Young and Gary Winner;

Public relations—Russell Adams, Walter Leist and George Wharton; Publicity — Cecil Andrews, Marvin Cook and Paul Smallwood;

Proficiency — R. S. Denman, T. M. Glick and Frank Woodward; Fellowship — Glenn Justice, Orren Stout and Harry Styers;

Finance — George Mast, O. E. Barr and Cecil Andrews; Youth welfare — Azel Laughlin, Frank Woodward and Charles Allison.

or as it certainly will for Kennedy. The mid-January doldrums for both were an illusion of quietude.

In 1953 Eisenhower had brought the Korean War to an end but the battle between his administration and Sen. Joseph McCarthy already had begun.

Eisenhower in 1953 didn't have as much to worry about from Russia as Kennedy does now. It wasn't until late summer of 1953 that Russia had its first hydrogen explosion. It didn't have missiles then, either.

That very difference was at the root of Kennedy's most critical problem in 1961: how to keep Russia from taking over Berlin without getting into war.

Both men, by the time they had held their first news conference in January of their second year, had already delivered to Congress the outline of their second year's program in their State of the Union message.

There was a similarity between these messages. Much of both was routine although both suggested pushing the country's welfare programs forward a bit.

The response both men got from Congress could hardly be called overwhelmingly enthusiastic, particularly on Eisenhower's ideas about a new farm program and Kennedy's plea for tariff-cutting powers.

Both men delivered their messages at the beginning of a congressional election year. That explained, but only in part, the "mixed" reaction they got from Democrats and Republicans.

Kennedy, despite what looked like a great zest for news conferences when he took office, has lagged behind Eisenhower who made less to do about them.

After almost precisely the same amount of time in the presidency Kennedy has held only 20 news conferences to Eisenhower's 24.

It was only a few weeks after Eisenhower's first and unexciting news conference of 1954 that dragout fight with McCarthy really got under way.

Kennedy at this time can only guess at what is in store for him. He knows he will have some more difficulty with Premier Khrushchev. He doesn't know how much. He doesn't know what may explode in Asia.

Hog Prices To Escape as Election Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department farm price forecast indicates the price of hogs will not be an issue of consequence in congressional elections in the Midwest farm belt next fall.

These prices often have been issues on which parties out of power have made gains in congressional seats in off-year elections. When hog and other livestock prices decline, there usually is a tendency on the part of political leaders and some farmers to blame the party in power.

A department report on the livestock and meat situation said it is likely that hog prices next fall will be little different from last fall. If that turns out to be correct, hog farmers will have little to complain about.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that Canada has set a price support of $23.65 a hundred pounds for hogs this year. This is an increase of $1 over the 1961 support.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says farm wage rates early this month slowed slightly but consistent increases over a year earlier.

For the country as a whole, rates averaged 93.2 cents an hour compared with 90.9 cents a year ago, an increase of 12 per cent over the 1957-59 January average.

The department said rates for 1961 averaged 83.4 cents an hour compared with 81.8 cents for 1960.

Ex-Pw'ery Chieftain Sued by Old Company

CLEVELAND (AP) — Irving B. Garber, former president of the National Pottery Corp. of Bedford, is being sued in common pleas court for $1 million by his old company.

Daniel R. McCarthy, secretary of the company, alleged in a petition that Garber conspired to set up the International Artware Corp. which he now head while still with the old company. Garber, who lives in suburban University Heights, denied any conspiracy.

Ohio Astronaut Finely-Tuned, Ready For His Rocket Ride Around Globe

By James Marlow

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — John H. Glenn Jr., balding 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel, is about to embark on one of the greatest adventures ever undertaken by an American.

On Tuesday, Jan. 23, Glenn is scheduled to ride a powerful Atlas rocket into orbit about the earth. Streaking through space at 17,500 miles an hour, his capsule is intended to make three circuits of the globe in 4½ hours.

The results will help establish guidelines for this nation's future course in space.

At altitudes up to 150 miles, astronaut Glenn will have a breathtaking look at the earth below. Each glance will afford a stunning panoramic view stretching 1,800 miles from horizon to horizon.

Continents and oceans will skip from sight in minutes. The capsule will whip through alternate periods of daylight and darkness as it sweeps into the shadow of the earth, then emerges again in to sunlight.

At times, Glenn, honed by months of training, will roll his spacecraft over to gaze at the stars and heavens through a wide-angle window. Undistorted by the earth's atmosphere, the stars will appear as they truly are — unblinking in brilliant red, yellow, blue and white hues.

For all but a few minutes, Glenn will be in a weird and exhilarating world of weightlessness. He will have a sensation of free-falling through an endless void.

How man is able to function in a weightless state on prolonged space journeys is a major enigma the Mercury orbital flights aim to solve.

On his 17-orbit flight last Aug. 6, Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov reported that most of the time he suffered a vertigo sickness, or dizziness. He said it was especially pronounced when he turned his head sharply or observed swiftly moving objects outside his Vostok II spaceship.

Retraining Program Lags

Much is expected of the federal retraining program for the chronically jobless. They can learn new skills in lines where jobs are available. The first effort is being made in two West Virginia mining counties where 8,000 persons are idle.

Even though pay is offered while learning new jobs, less than 10 per cent of the unemployed in that area have applied. This is puzzling and disappointing to officials in charge of the pilot project.

"Some of our unemployed people are just going to have to face facts and change their vocations to get jobs," one of the officials said. Apparently many nonappli-cants are averse to acquiring a skill that might compel them to move out of their communities. They keep hoping that local industries will expand payrolls, but it never happens.

Job retraining has a direct relation to relief rolls which have become burdensome in most communities. There is a rising determination in the nation to get able-bodied people on long term relief out of their idleness and into self-supporting work.

That cannot be done too soon. It will be better for the idle and better for the nation.

Case against Castro

Washington has not overstated its case against Cuba. Castro is a threat to the hemisphere. There is no doubt that he wants to export communism to Latin America. But Castro's pledge of communism, his declaration that Cuba is a socialist state, failure to restore free elections, the continuing executions and suppression of liberties, have made Castroism less and less attractive to other Latin states.

Castro has built a strong regime which can maintain itself by force against internal revolution. But the same measures which perpetuate his declared communist regime are those which repel the Latins once so attracted to him.

The Organization of American States, when it meets late this month to act on Cuba, can grease the skids for Castro if it has the will to do so.

Allergies Not Funny

Allergies, most persons are beginning to understand, are not as funny as they formerly were widely thought to be. Those who do not suffer from it may still have a tendency to think that hay fever has its comic aspects, and it's true that a number of allergic troubles are more annoying than serious. But for millions of persons in this country they are no joke.

It's estimated that 60 of every 100 persons show symptoms of allergic diseases at some time or other. Ten of 100 are affected seriously. In the United States there are estimated to be four million persons with asthma and hay fever, and three million sufferers from chronic bronchitis and sinusitis who are troubled with allergies. This is enough to indicate the dimensions of medical science. Much has been done and much is being done, to cure, relieve and prevent allergic diseases.

Women Are Alarm Clocks, Too

By Hal Boyle

By JOY STILEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Women are always getting credit for being chauffeurs, nurses, cooks, housekeepers and laundresses.

Well, I can add another job to that list. I serve as an alarm clock too.

Not just the ordinary kind of clock that buzzes, rings, tinkles or flashes a light, either.

I pat, poke, prod, shake, whistle, groan, grumble, threaten, command and bring orange juice.

No store bought alarm clock ever worked as long or hard to get a man up as I do, and I don't get paid overtime for it. In fact, no electrically powered clock has ever yet managed to get my husband out of bed in the morning.

He wakes up just long enough to turn the thing off and that's the extent of his dealings with the timepiece.

From then on it's my job to get my sleepyhead off to his job and I'm quite convinced he doesn't work half as hard at the office as I do getting him there.

Every morning I start off hopefully with a gentle pat and murmur softly in his ear. "Honey, it's time to get up."

If this brings any response at all — which it seldom does — it comes in the form of a cross between a snarl and a growl.

Bravely ignoring the rebuff, I try a different approach. "Are you awake, honey?" This usually elicits a rather strong reply, the last word of which is "No!"

Sleepy as I am myself, long years of practice bring on the next stage automatically. I dig down under the blanket, with which he has covered his head as a defense against lights, sounds and an unsympathetic wife, and get hold of enough shoulder to shake.

This maneuver causes one eye to open wide enough to look accusingly at his attacker—but only momentarily.

By this time I have managed to get myself sufficiently conscious, I stumble to the kitchen for a glass of orange juice. This I am often tempted to pour upon my husband, but instead I put it on his night table, inform him that time, tide and the bus wait for no man, and stalk out.

Five minutes later I make a return trip to the bedroom, expecting to find the family provider dressed, wide-awake and full of enthusiasm for the challenges of the new day.

Instead I find him snoring happily in the exact position in which I left him.

Incensed, I remove my kid gloves and attack the problem—and my husband—with vigor and a firm hand. After finally capturing his attention I direct his reluctant gaze to the bedroom clock, which shows that he should have been out of the house 20 minutes before.

The realization that he lives in an unfeeling world where alarm clocks and time clocks combine to make life miserable finally jolts him out of bed and into his clothes.

Meanwhile—back in the living room—I station myself, glass of milk and vitamin pill in outstretched hands, between the bedroom and the front door. He grabs the milk and pill from me on his way out, gulps them down and mutters grumpily, "I'm going to be awfully late. Why didn't you wake me sooner?"

Don't tell him he'd be later still if I didn't keep the bedroom clock set 15 minutes fast.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Utility earnings and stock prices are mirroring today the changing regional patterns of the U.S. economy as well as the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Usually utility profits go on advancing at about the same rate year after year. That is because they are government regulated companies with their charges held fairly closely in line with their revenues and earnings.

But this time there's a change. Figures for the 12 months ending Nov. 30, the latest available, show a smaller over-all profit gain than usual. And earnings of a much larger number of companies than usual fell below the previous 12 months.

The pattern tends to be regional and spotty. Those falling behind are mostly either in the industrial areas where much of their revenues depend on the activities of factories and mills or in the older population centers where growth has slowed or, in some cases, where population has dropped.

Only in the last few months of the 12-month period was activity rising in factories and mills. In most of the period covered the utilities sold less power to industry.

The course of utility stock prices can be charted by the 15 utility stock price average index of The Associated Press, which includes 14 in the electrical energy field and giant American Telephone & Telegraph in communications.

The index started 1961 at its low point of 111.8. The high was reached Dec. 12 at 148.9. Then the reaction set in and the index closed the year at 143.1. At close of trading Jan. 12 it stood at 138.7. This keeps it well above year ago prices, if notably down in the last four weeks.

The total 12 month after-tax earnings of 89 power utilities is $1,245,935,000, a gain of 3 per cent over the $1,211,358,000 the same companies earned in the previous 12 months. The annual gain in profits has ranged between 5 and 7 per cent in the last 10 years. And in the latest year 25 of the 89 firms showed earnings falling behind the previous 12 months. Usually only a fraction of that number do.

AT&T net income was higher than the 89 power companies combined. Adding it into the utility total, since it is included in the AP utility stock index, you have a total of $2,517,021,000 in the latest 12 months, a gain of 4 per cent over the previous period.

The slowdown in utility earnings

as a whole may well be only temporary. Receipts and profits were rising at the end of the period for all except those in areas where population and industrial growth had stopped. As the industrial recovery continues, utility earnings in general are expected to rise.

And many expect 1962 reports to look much better for the industry as a whole than will 1961 when the final figures are in.

Your son comes home with his front teeth chipped and pointing in every direction.

Will his teeth turn gray? Fall out? Or protrude like Bugs Bunny's?

Inside the tooth's hard enamel shell, stringy dentine pulp surrounds a central root canal.

Don't worry about chipped enamel. The dentist can grind down all jagged points.

If steamy soups and icy drinks can seep through into the dentine, the tooth will gnaw and ache. The dentist may fill this "cavity" or cover the tooth with a porcelain jacket to look like new.

The nerve tears when the split runs all the way to the root canal. Usually, bleeding blood vessels next to the nerve canal and eventually darken the white enamel. But root canal treatment — cleaning and filling the canal — can still salvage the tooth.

Like a boat, a tooth may look shipshape above the water line and still be ripped apart down below.

Roots can break and become loose. Topside, the tooth dies like a tree cut off from its roots. Because the tooth may change slowly over months and years, the dentist has to check regularly. He can usually straighten bent teeth and anchor them in place with wire or rubber bands. When the gum fills in, the wire comes off.

If the inner coating of the tooth socket rips open, the tooth eventually falls out. Otherwise, every tooth can be saved.

When you lose one tooth, you actually lose two. Its opposite can't help you chew, either.

As long as roots remain, the dentist can attach tiny supports and cement a false tooth in place. You can't tell this false tooth from the real thing—unless you stop brush-ing. It's the one that doesn't get the cavities!

Retraining Program Lags

Much is expected of the federal retraining program for the chronically jobless. They can learn new skills in lines where jobs are available. The first effort is being made in two West Virginia mining counties where 8,000 persons are idle.

Even though pay is offered while learning new jobs, less than 10 per cent of the unemployed in that area have applied. This is puzzling and disappointing to officials in charge of the pilot project.

"Some of our unemployed people are just going to have to face facts and change their vocations to get jobs," one of the officials said. Apparently many nonappli-cants are averse to acquiring a skill that might compel them to move out of their communities. They keep hoping that local industries will expand payrolls, but it never happens.

Job retraining has a direct relation to relief rolls which have become burdensome in most communities. There is a rising determination in the nation to get able-bodied people on long term relief out of their idleness and into self-supporting work.

That cannot be done too soon. It will be better for the idle and better for the nation.

Case against Castro

Washington has not overstated its case against Cuba. Castro is a threat to the hemisphere. There is no doubt that he wants to export communism to Latin America. But Castro's pledge of communism, his declaration that Cuba is a socialist state, failure to restore free elections, the continuing executions and suppression of liberties, have made Castroism less and less attractive to other Latin states.

Castro has built a strong regime which can maintain itself by force against internal revolution. But the same measures which perpetuate his declared communist regime are those which repel the Latins once so attracted to him.

The Organization of American States, when it meets late this month to act on Cuba, can grease the skids for Castro if it has the will to do so.

Allergies Not Funny

Allergies, most persons are beginning to understand, are not as funny as they formerly were widely thought to be. Those who do not suffer from it may still have a tendency to think that hay fever has its comic aspects, and it's true that a number of allergic troubles are more annoying than serious. But for millions of persons in this country they are no joke.

It's estimated that 60 of every 100 persons show symptoms of allergic diseases at some time or other. Ten of 100 are affected seriously. In the United States there are estimated to be four million persons with asthma and hay fever, and three million sufferers from chronic bronchitis and sinusitis who are troubled with allergies. This is enough to indicate the dimensions of medical science. Much has been done and much is being done, to cure, relieve and prevent allergic diseases.

Women Are Alarm Clocks, Too

By Hal Boyle

By JOY STILEY
(For Hal Boyle)
NEW YORK (AP)—Women are always getting credit for being chauffeurs, nurses, cooks, housekeepers and laundresses.

Well, I can add another job to that list. I serve as an alarm clock too.

Not just the ordinary kind of clock that buzzes, rings, tinkles or flashes a light, either. I pat, poke, prod, shake, whistle, groan, grumble, threaten, command and bring orange juice.

No store bought alarm clock ever worked as long or hard to get a man up as I do, and I don't get paid overtime for it. In fact, no electrically powered clock has ever yet managed to get my husband out of bed in the morning. He wakes up just long enough to turn the thing off and that's the extent of his dealings with the timepiece.

From then on it's my job to get my sleepyhead off to his job and I'm quite convinced he doesn't work half as hard at the office as I do getting him there.

Every morning I start off hopefully with a gentle pat and murmur softly in his ear. "Honey, it's time to get up."

If this brings any response at all—which it seldom does—it comes in the form of a cross between a snarl and a growl.

Bravely ignoring the rebuff, I try a different approach. "Are you awake, honey?" This usually elicits a rather strong reply, the last word of which is "No!"

Sleepy as I am myself, long years of practice bring on the next stage automatically. I dig down under the blanket, with which he has covered his head as a defense against lights, sounds and an unsympathetic wife, and get hold of enough shoulder to shake.

This maneuver causes one eye to open wide enough to look accusingly at his attacker—but only momentarily.

By this time I have managed to get myself sufficiently conscious, I stumble to the kitchen for a glass of orange juice. This I am often tempted to pour upon my husband, but instead I put it on his night table, inform him that time, tide and the bus wait for no man, and stalk out.

Five minutes later I make a return trip to the bedroom, expecting to find the family provider dressed, wide-awake and full of enthusiasm for the challenges of the new day.

Instead I find him snoring happily in the exact position in which I left him.

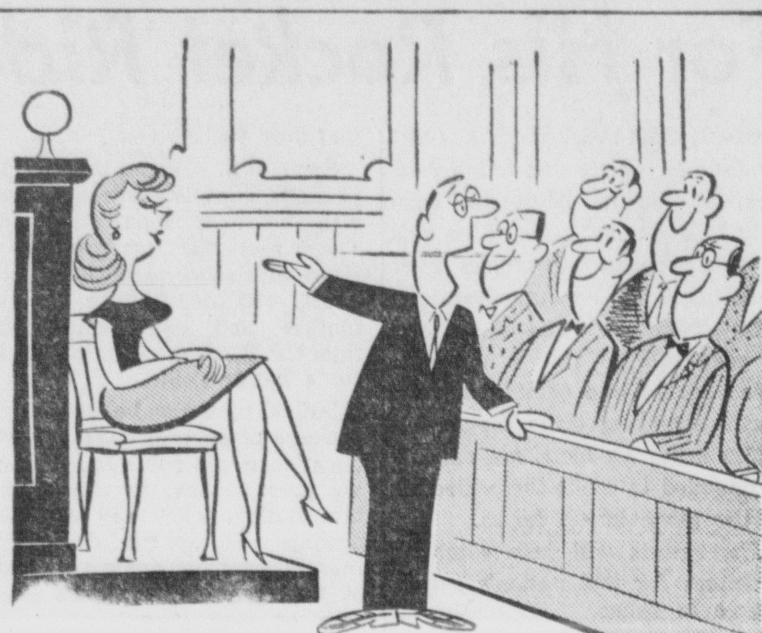

Incensed, I remove my kid gloves and attack the problem—and my husband—with vigor and a firm hand. After finally capturing his attention I direct his reluctant gaze to the bedroom clock, which shows that he should have been out of the house 20 minutes before.

The realization that he lives in an unfeeling world where alarm clocks and time clocks combine to make life miserable finally jolts him out of bed and into his clothes.

Meanwhile—back in the living room—I station myself, glass of milk and vitamin pill in outstretched hands, between the bedroom and the front door. He grabs the milk and pill from me on his way out, gulps them down and mutters grumpily, "I'm going to be awfully late. Why didn't you wake me sooner?"

Don't tell him he'd be later still if I didn't keep the bedroom clock set 15 minutes fast-

A BROADWAY AGENT, lunching at Sardi's, overheard a famous producer of musicals bemoaning the fact that he couldn't find a beautiful redhead to play the lead in an upcoming show. The agent rushed over to the producer and assured him, "I have the perfect girl for the part."

"Great!" enthused the producer. "Get her over to my office on the double."

"She won't be able to see you today," explained the agent. "She'll have to get her hair dyed red."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.
Your son comes home with his front teeth chipped and pointing in every direction.

Will his teeth turn gray? Fall out? Or protrude like Bugs Bunny's?

Inside the tooth's hard enamel shell, stringy dentine pulp surrounds a central root canal.

Don't worry about chipped enamel. The dentist can grind down all jagged points.

If steamy soups and icy drinks can seep through into the dentine, the tooth will gnaw and ache. The dentist may fill this "cavity" or cover the tooth with a porcelain jacket to look like new.

The nerve tears when the split runs all the way to the root canal. Usually, bleeding blood vessels next to the nerve canal and eventually darken the white enamel. But root canal treatment—cleaning and filling the canal—can still salvage the tooth.

Like a boat, a tooth may look shipshape above the water line and still be ripped apart below.

Roots can break and become loose. Topside, the tooth dies like a tree cut off from its roots. Because the tooth may change slowly over months and years, the dentist has to check regularly. He can usually straighten bent teeth and anchor them in place with wire or rubber bands. When the gum fills in, the wire comes off.

If the inner coating of the tooth socket rips open, the tooth eventually falls out. Otherwise, every tooth can be saved.

When you lose one tooth, you actually lose two. Its opposite can't help you chew, either.

As long as roots remain, the dentist can attach tiny supports and cement a false tooth in place. You can't tell this false tooth from the real thing—unless you stop brush-ing. It's the one that doesn't get the cavities!

Renewal of Strength

By George Sokolsky

Those governments which have a system of continuity survive longest.

Until World War I, such countries as Russia, Great Britain, the Austro-Hungarian Empire could point to a thousand or so years of history. No nation in Asia has had a continuous record of so many years. China, for instance, has had a record of changes of dynasty which indicates a total lack of continuity. Many of the dynasties were foreign in origin. For instance, the great Tong Dynasty was foreign in origin, the Yuan was Mongol, the Taching was Manchu. The history of India is one of constant conquest of different parts of the country, leading to varieties of form of government.

Those countries which have been continuous have been most stable and their people have been protected from the startling shifts and changes of government by violent revolution.

Russia had a continuous history from the conquest of that country by the Mongols (1207-1238) to 1917. The Czarist government was not progressive nor was it on the whole, beneficial to the Russian people, but its successor, the Soviet Government, faces domestic problems which it may not be able to meet without further revolution. The loss of the Hapsburg Dynasty has been a disastrous episode in European history. Not a single successor nation has been able to stabilize itself, although little Austria is moving forward better than was expected during the past two decades.

The United States is a comparatively new country politically but it has had a continuous form of government for three centuries. The Revolutionary War did not alter the form of government. It only intensified its nature.

The Declaration of Independence the Articles of Confederation and the Constitution did not change the nature of government or the social habits of the people; they strengthened a form of government which had been continuous among the Anglo-Saxon peoples in principle since the Witenagemot, the earliest parliament, the conception of which was some form of representative government that ultimately, through many stages of evolution, produced the idea of government by choice.

And so, we come down to the year 1962 in the United States with John F. Kennedy at the head of a continuous government as he stands before a congress chosen by the people to report on the State of the Nation. Not all the people favored or favor Kennedy. Not all the people agree with the policies of the present Administration, but those who agree or disagree are united in support of a continuing government. As the President stood before Congress, all parties applauded him.

There are always those whose opposition reaches extremist and unpleasant attitudes. Since the beginning of American history there have been little movements of intensified opposition such as Shays' Rebellion, or the violence of Aaron Burr or the War Between the States. But no antagonistic movement has survived the strength of a continuous government. The result has been stability and strength.

When President Kennedy expressed his opposition to extremist movements, he anticipated for his country not revolutionary movements but a partnership, in progress. What we must expect is not only political but economic stability. This has been the genius of the American system. While we do not have perfection in a free society we do labor to maintain a society in which freedom approaches equality.

The President's State of the Union message attacked no previous Administration; it did not assert superiority over its predecessors. It offered a program for the future continuity of the American system of freedom and equal opportunity. He spoke long but his speech can be summed up in a phrase, equal opportunity for all in a free society which in all sections of the country builds a partnership for freedom.

Despite political differences, this speech was a continuation of one made by Abraham Lincoln, of another party. But in 1962, a President of the United States can take advantage of science and technology to establish a better life for all our people.

There are those who are so prejudiced that they refuse to recognize new needs and new developments; who insist that this nation can grow in wisdom and strength without anybody doing anything about it. To these, it need be said that greater strength comes from constant renewal of strength. This is not radicalism. It is a constant movement in the direction of continuity and stability.

Syrian sarafs, traditional money lenders, still flourish in competition with modern commercial banks in that country.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Utility earnings and stock prices are mirroring today the changing regional patterns of the U.S. economy as well as the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Usually utility profits go on advancing at about the same rate year after year. That is because they are government regulated companies with their charges held fairly closely in line with their revenues and earnings.

But this time there's a change. Figures for the 12 months ending Nov. 30, the latest available, show a smaller over-all profit gain than usual. And earnings of a much larger number of companies than usual fell below the previous 12 months.

The pattern tends to be regional and spotty. Those falling behind are mostly either in the industrial areas where much of their revenues depend on the activities of factories and mills or in the older population centers where growth has slowed or, in some cases, where population has dropped.

Only in the last few months of the 12-month period was activity rising in factories and mills. In most of the period covered the utilities sold less power to industry.

The course of utility stock prices can be charted by the 15 utility stock price average index of The Associated Press, which includes 14 in the electrical energy field and giant American Telephone & Telegraph in communications.

The index started 1961 at its low point of 111.8. The high was reached Dec. 12 at 148.9. Then the reaction set in and the index closed the year at 143.1. At close of trading Jan. 12 it stood at 138.7. This keeps it well above year ago prices, if notably down in the last four weeks.

The total 12 month after-tax earnings of 89 power utilities is $1,245,935,000, a gain of 3 per cent over the $1,211,358,000 the same companies earned in the previous 12 months. The annual gain in profits has ranged between 5 and 7 per cent in the last 10 years. And in the latest year 25 of the 89 firms showed earnings falling behind the previous 12 months. Usually only a fraction of that number do.

AT&T net income was higher than the 89 power companies combined. Adding it into the utility total, since it is included in the AP utility stock index, you have a total of $2,517,021,00 in the latest 12 months, a gain of 4 per cent over the previous period.

The slowdown in utility earnings

as a whole may well be only temporary. Receipts and profits were rising at the end of the period for all except those in areas where population and industrial growth had stopped. As the industrial recovery continues, utility earnings in general are expected to rise.

And many expect 1962 reports to look much better for the industry as a whole than will 1961 when the final figures are in.

Clothing Drive May Become Permanent as Aid to Needy

A successful drive here has netted more than enough clothing for a Lowery Lane family which was left homeless last week by fire.

Box after box of articles were received after local Juvenile Probation Officer Ralph Starkey issued a call to aid Mr. and Mrs. Jay Adams and their eight children. The donations almost filled a room in the basement of City Hall.

Starkey today expressed thanks to the many local citizens who generously answered his request. He said pickups are still being made.

Most of the Adams children have been outfitted as have members of the Seyfang family whose home also was destroyed by fire last week in the Amanda area.

STARKEY said the abundance of clothing collected has prompted him to set plans for a permanent inventory for future emergencies. He said many articles left over from the current drive will be used as a beginning for the stockpile.

The probation officer presently faces the problem of where to store the items. He said one room would probably be sufficient.

was aided by many persons and groups, including the local Red Cross Chapter and the Key Club and Senior SOS at Circleville High School.

According to current plans, Starkey said he will make an effort to conduct clothing drives perhaps twice a year, once around house cleaning time, in order to buildup his inventory. Needy children in this area will be the top priority recipients.

Malta Order Adds Names Of 65 Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—In stately and solemn church ceremonies 65 Americans today became Master Knights of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta.

Membership in the organization, devoted to charitable and relief activities, is one of the highest honors in the Roman Catholic Church.

About 1,500 people, including friends and relatives of the new knights, attended the St. Patrick's Cathedral investiture rites, led by Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

One by one, the inductees knelt before the cardinal and received the knight's cape and an 8-pronged white Maltese cross as he spoke these words:

"Receive this cross for your protection and salvation in the name of the Father, and the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

A colorful procession, accompanied by the singing of a choir, opened the ceremonies. A special decree from Pope John XXIII was read conferring the status and duties on the new knights.

The worldwide organization of Catholic laymen and priests dates back to the time of the Crusades.

The number of American members is limited to 600. The rank is bestowed for "outstanding Catholic action"—service to the Church and fellow men.

Dear Abby... To Provide Speedy Service

By Abigail VanBuren

Make It Doubly Festive!

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps a disinterested party can help us to come up with the right answer in a family disagreement. Our son was born on December 25th. Since his birthday falls on Christmas, I would like to celebrate it on January 25th so his birthday can be a special occasion for him and not just all mixed in with Christmas. Most of my relatives say they will give him a birthday gift on his birthday and not a month later. What do you think about this? Would it be unfair to make him wait a month to celebrate on the real date and let his birthday get lost in the Christmas rush?

WHAT TO DO
DEAR WHAT: Celebrate his birthday on the anniversary of his birth. Many people must share their "birthdays" with another memorable occasion. I know. I was born on the 4th of July!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is divorced, has two children and is trying to marry a 29-year-old bachelor. Instead of having him come to her home to get better acquainted with her children, she drives to another town to spend the week-ends with him in a fancy motel. Our daughter maintains that if he "falls" hard enough for her he will accept her children later. We didn't raise our daughter to behave this way, Abby, but she is 25 and is her own boss, so there is nothing we can do. We hate to see her make a mess of her life, but she won't listen to us. Can you help?

HER PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: Your daughter needs to be told by someone whose opinion she values that no man will marry a divorcee with two children if she will spend week-ends with him without benefit of matrimony. Why should he?

DEAR ABBY: My next door neighbor, whom I have known for two years, told me when she first moved in that she wanted to be alone, and did not care to get friendly with her neighbors. I never visited her, of course, but one day she knocked on my back door and complained that I had never called on her. I was surprised, but said nothing and invited her in for a cup of tea anyway.

Later on, about a week later, I knocked on her door to show her my willingness to be friendly, and she told me sharply that she wanted to be alone and didn't care for visitors. Then this morning she came to my door asking why I never come to see her. Do you think she is a mental case? She lives alone. What should I do about it? I am beginning to fear for her.

LITTLE WHITE HOUSE
DEAR LITTLE: Find out if she has any relatives or close friends to whom you can report her condition. She appears to be irrational.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Vatican Studies Rising Paganism

Communism To Receive New Condemnation

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church ecumenical council will take a firm stand against rising currents of paganism, a communique announced today.

The communique was issued by the council's central preparatory commission at its third session.

The commission did not mention communism by name. But Vatican sources said that the communique indicated that atheistic communism would be included in the council's condemnation of paganism.

Officially proclaimed by Pope John XXIII on Christmas Day, the council will be convened late this year. The exact date has not been set. The council will bring to Rome about 3,000 cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops, priests and specialists in church matters.

The council will be dedicated to affairs of the Roman Catholic Church, but Pope John has frequently expressed the hope that it also will serve as a step toward world Christian unity.

At the conclusion of a secret session, the commission issued its communique saying the forthcoming council will condemn rising currents of paganism, including those which "by abusing psychoanalysis attempt to justify what is directly in contrast with the moral order."

The commission session, said the communique, recalled the words of the late Pope Pius XII on moral disorientation: "The greatest sin of our times is that of no longer believing in sin."

This, said the communique, results in error concerning the moral order dependent upon God and even in denial of the existence of God.

5 Election Victors Fail To Obey Law

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five Hamilton County men were popular enough to get elected last November, but they will be ineligible to seek reelection.

Andrew Hitz, clerk of the board of elections, said the five were among 19 candidates who were either too late filing campaign expense accounts or never filed them at all. According to law, persons who do not file the accounts can't run for office for at least five years.

These units are stored at local expense but expenses of shipping and loading are borne by the Federal Government. Since they are "cocoon" packed, they may not be uncrated except for actual use. Inspections of these hospitals are made by the government at regular intervals.

Of a total of 989 hospitals delivered to states on this Prepositioning Program, 108 have been shipped to Ohio. The unit here stored in the basement of the Memorial Hall. In case of need, tentative plans call for setting up in the EUB Service Center and the basement of the Methodist Church.

A training film and operations manual are under study, but are not yet available. In the near future, members of the Nurses' Association expect to attend a training program for setting up and operating this type of hospital.

The commission did not mention communism by name. But Vatican sources said that the communique indicated that atheistic communism would be included in the council's condemnation of paganism.

Officially proclaimed by Pope John XXIII on Christmas Day, the council will be convened later this year. The exact date has not been set. The council will bring to Rome about 3,000 cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops, priests and specialists in church matters.

The council will be dedicated to affairs of the Roman Catholic Church, but Pope John has frequently expressed the hope that it also will serve as a step toward world Christian unity.

At the conclusion of a secret session, the commission issued its communique saving the forthcoming council will condemn rising currents of paganism, including those which "by abusing psychoanalysis attempt to justify what is directly in contrast with the moral order."

The commission session, said the communique, recalled the words of the late Pope Pius XII on moral disorientation: "The greatest sin of our times is that of no longer believing in sin."

This, said the communique, results in error concerning the moral order dependent upon God and even in denial of the existence of God.

5 Election Victors Fail To Obey Law

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five Hamilton County men were popular enough to get elected last November, but they will be ineligible to seek reelection.

Andrew Hitz, clerk of the board of elections, said the five were among 19 late filing campaign expense accounts or never filed them at all. According to law, persons who do not file the accounts can't run for office for at least five years.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

As the cold front passed through the state Monday evening, frigid air again invaded all sections and temperatures dropped slowly into the middle and lower 20s.

Skies cleared only temporarily as winds moving over the relatively warm lakes brought moisture back into Ohio in the form of intermittently cloudy skies, and, in the northeastern lakeshore area, snow flurries were reported.

By just before dawn today, temperatures ranged from 18 at Toledo to 29 at Chesapeake. Columbus had 21 and Cleveland 26.

Temperatures will remain below the freezing point today, possibly dropping to near or just below zero tonight in the northwestern counties. Scattered snow flurries are anticipated for the entire northern half of the state.

Thugs Teach Man Value Of Banks

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 65-year-old man carried $3,000—his life savings—around in a hip pocket because he said he didn't trust banks.

Demetrios Morzos, a native of Greece, was on his way to the bus station Saturday night to take a trip to his brother's farm in Pennsylvania. He wanted to ask him what he should do with the money.

Morzos said he thought of buying a car, investing in securities or taking a trip to Greece.

Before he got to the bus terminal, he said, two young men assaulted him. He told police they knocked him down, slashed open the rear pants pocket, and fled with the money.

He said he only had $5 left of the money he had earned as a laborer.

What will he do with it? "I'll put it in a bank," he replied. "I never believed in a bank before, but I must start saving in one now."

Electric Power Drops

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wet coal was blamed for a partial power drop Monday night at the municipal light plant that affected 10,000 customers and darkened many street and traffic lights for nearly an hour.

CD Hospital Unit Designed To Provide Speedy Service

Editor's Note: The Pickaway County Registered Nurses Assn. has planned a series of articles pertaining to the various aspects of Civil Defense in hope that such information will be of interest and value to everyone. The stories have been selected from several publications of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. Today's initial release concerns the emergency hospital unit recently acquired by Pickaway County.

This hospital was developed by Dr. Carlisle Lenz, of the National office, based on the Army surgical field hospital. The instruments, supplies and equipment were chosen on the basis of usefulness as determined after study by the American Medical Assn., American Hospital Assn., American Nursing Assn. and others concerned with this aspect of medical care.

Under present concept, the 200 bed Emergency Hospital is expected to give definitive medical and surgical care (with the exception of some specialty types of surgery which could later be referred to specialty hospitals) and operate for a period as long as a year.

It must be understood that, while this is spoken of as a hospital with complete material, it does not include any tentage or actual buildings. From the design of the setup, any school, warehouse, or similar building could be utilized. After all equipment is in place, it would constitute a functioning hospital.

The hospital consists of 290 items, packed in 400 cases. It's over-all weight is 13 tons, and can be moved in two ordinary vans. Although it requires an area of approximately 15,000 square feet to set up functionally, its storage space is quite compact. Cost of the complete hospital, orated, is approximately $20,000 to the government. Thirty men can uncrate and set up the hospital, in a suitable building, in about four hours.

INCLUDED in its equipment is an x-ray machine utilizing polaroid film. Flat plates can be read one minute after taking. The laboratory is equipped to do all common laboratory procedures.

There are two generators, a water-storage tank and a water pump included in the unit, so that operation will not be interrupted if utilities are not available. There is also equipment for two operating rooms, pharmacy, central supply, cots bedding, and many other supplies.

It is planned that feeding will be handled under the auspices of the welfare division which will supply equipment, personnel and food. It has been suggested that dishes be included in the hospital equipment. This is under study at the present time.

Although normally a 200 bed hospital, it is contemplated that under the austere system of medical care, necessitated by the disparity between overwhelming numbers of casualties and inadequate facilities, only about one in every five patients will actually be placed in a hospital bed. This raises the number of people cared for to one in a thousand.

In recent field tests of the hospital, more than a thousand simulated patients were run through the installation. Some weak spots were disclosed and changes were made accordingly.

Hospital utilization and distribution is being advanced by a form-pronged system: First - Federal Stockpiling Program, wherein hospitals are stored in Federal warehouses and distributed as necessary; second, training and Exhibition Program, wherein hospitals are loaned to states for use in their training programs and for exhibition purposes; third, Hospital Purchase Program, wherein states purchase the hospital on a matching fund basis; and fourth, Prepositioning Program, wherein the hospitals are stored in strategic spots by the states, so they will be available in event of enemy-caused disaster.

THEY may, however, be used in a natural disaster, if other facilities are not available, with the approval of the Regional Director of OCDM Basically, hospitals are prepositioned in places that provide adequate storage and protection and sufficiently removed from critical target areas. The present quota is one hospital per 50,000 of critical area population.

These units are stored at local expense, but expenses of shipping and loading are borne by the Federal Government. Since they are "cocoon" packed, they may not be uncrated except for actual use. Inspections of these hospitals is made by the government at regular intervals.

Of a total of 989 hospitals delivered to states on this Prepositioning Program, 108 have been shipped to Ohio. The unit here stored in the basement of the Memorial Hall. In case of need, tentative plans call for setting up in the EUB Service Center and the basement of the Methodist Church.

A training film and operations manual are under study, but are not yet available. In the near future, members of the Nurses' Association expect to attend a training program for setting up and operating this type of hospital.

Shelter Survey Ordered

CLEVELAND (AP)—Four Cleveland consulting engineering firms have been awarded contracts totaling $245,000 by the Army Engineers to survey buildings in Cuyahoga County for possible use as civil defense shelters.

Mrs. Everett Peters Speaker At Solaqua Garden Club Meet

Members of the Solaqua Garden Club met recently for a regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Taes, Ashville.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president, called the meeting to order by reading an original poem, "The Old Year and the New". Psalm 19 was read by Mrs. Taes and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison for the devotional service.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved and reports of standing committees were heard.

Plans were discussed for the Rose Breakfast which the club is sponsoring for the June meeting.

Niswenders Host Calvary EUB Crusaders Class

The Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Niswender were hosts to the Crusaders Class of Calvary EUB Church when the class members met recently in the parsonage.

Rev. Niswender conducted a devotional period for Mrs. Marion Defong, who was unable to attend the meeting. He read scripture from Psalm 71 and gave readings entitled "The Year As a Day" and "Peace Inside Out" which he suggested as thoughts for each member to use in the new year. He closed devotions with a prayer.

It was announced that members have several boxes of get-well cards remaining for sale.

Plans were made for members to attend a film showing of "The King of Kings" in Columbus on Saturday. Also, the class decided to sponsor a chili supper from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 19.

Refreshments were served by the host and hostess at the close of the meeting to 11 members and six guests, Mrs. Pauline McNabb, Phil Niswender, Ronnie and Jacque Layton and Danny and David DeLong.

First Methodist Circle No. 6 Slates Events

The members of Circle No. 6 of the First Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Richard Hackman, 637 Garden Parkway.

Mrs. A. D. Page opened the session with devotions. The chairman, Mrs. Paul Town, then conducted the business meeting. 15 members were present.

It was announced that the church youth group will sponsor a Smorgasbord, Jan. 23. There will be a church-wide mission study on Sunday evenings during February. It was also noted that Circle 6 will serve the Men's Club dinner in March.

The ways and means committee chairman, Mrs. Hackman, reported on the dinner the group served to the Ross County farmers. The proceeds will help to meet the circle's quota of the WSCS budget. It was decided to hold a Candy and Cookie Sale on Saturday, Feb. 10.

The meeting concluded with a White Elephant Sale. Refreshments were then served by Mrs. Roscoe Warren, Miss Marie Hamilton, Mrs. Page and Mrs. Hackman.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 in the home of Mrs. Jacques Sweeney, 535 Ridgewood Drive.

Ladies Aid Has Meeting At Ashville

The Robtown Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Society held a meeting Thursday afternoon in the parsonage of the Ashville EUB Church. Mrs. John Morgan was hostess for the event.

The meeting opened with group singing of hymns, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "More About Jesus". Mrs. Morgan read scripture from St. Luke, followed with prayer by Mrs. Henry Hanson. Mrs. Cecil Ward read a poem "Don't Quit". The last hymn was "Lily of the Valley".

Mrs. Harold Fee presided at the business meeting. The secretary's report was given, followed by roll call and collection of dues. Members responded with suggestions for new ideas and improvements in 1962.

Mrs. Ward read the minutes from Jan. 13, 1961 records. Mrs. Fee read a new list of labels redeemable. It was announced that the Youth Fellowship will serve a pancake-sausage supper in the near future. Mrs. Fee appointed a committee to make plans for a spring auction as follows: Mrs. Charles Huston, Mrs. Raymond Hott, Mrs. Robert Drummond, Mrs. L. J. Welsh and Mrs. Howard Koch.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Morgan served refreshments in the dining room, to 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Frank Longberry.

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 8 in the Robtown Parish House. Hostesses in charge will be Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Jack Philo, Mrs. Coit Wilson and Mrs. Rex Hall Jr. Devotionals will be conducted by Mrs. Henry Hanson.

Mrs. Hedges appointed Mrs. James Hott, Mrs. Harry Trump and Mrs. L. C. Schiff to serve on a committee for the event.

Mrs. Alfred Cook was named winner of the special project prize. Mrs. C. W. Hedges was first prize winner in the contest and the Bobby Prize was won by Mrs. Homer Peters.

Mrs. Willard Barch conducted a leaf identification and pointed out the similarity in a leaf taken from a shrub and one taken from a fruit tree.

Mrs. Hedges displayed a beautiful arrangement of artificial flowers which she had made from foliage, roses and delphiniums.

Mrs. Everett Peters was speaker for the program. Mrs. Peters, who was recently exalted to the office of grand chief of the Pythian Sisters for the State of Ohio, gave a brief outline of the aims and purposes of the Knights of Pythias Lodge and the Pythian Sisters organization.

She told the story of Damon and Pythias and remarked that the K of P Lodge is 73 years old. Also, there are 227 K of P Temples in the State of Ohio. Mrs. Peters displayed a map which showed the location of every Temple she must visit in her duties as grand chief.

The speaker then gave the history of the Lodge Hospitals at Medina and Springfield and extended an invitation to anyone interested to visit them.

Following Mrs. Peters' talk, a social hour was enjoyed by the club members. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Taes assisted by Mrs. Jennie Russell and Mrs. James Hott.

Mrs. Henry Hansen of Jackson Twp. was a guest for the meeting. The February meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. W. Hedges with Mrs. John Koch and Mrs. Russell Perrill as assisting hostesses.

Mrs. George Hamrick, Pickaway County Extension Agent, will be guest speaker. Mr. Hamrick has chosen "Conservation" as his topic for the event.

SOMEONE THINKS ABOUT ELECTRICITY

The nice thing about electricity is that you don't have to think about it. You don't. But the man shown here does.

He's an engineer whose plant is considering a move. It's his job to make sure there's plenty of low-cost electric power available at the as-yet-undetermined new plant site.
That's where we come in.

Our job is to not only sell him on the merits of our electric service, but on the merits of the entire Columbus area. We take our job of "selling" Columbus seriously.
Because every new industry we help bring into Columbus means new jobs, new money in circulation, new growth for all of us.

Helping industry everywhere realize that Columbus is advantageously located "in the middle of marketing America" is one of several important services we perform in addition to supplying you with economical electric power. We thought you'd like to know about it.

Another Butler County Cage Power Emerges

Hamilton Taft Tops Class AA; Ayersville Still Paces Class A

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Butler County, which has captured 9 of the last 18 Ohio Class AA high school basketball championships, has another powerhouse in the making.

This time it's a new school—Hamilton Taft—picking up where the former Hamilton Big Blue and Middletown's fabulous Middies left off.

Taft, with 14 straight conquests, was named the state's top team in the weekly Associated Press poll today, Cleveland East Tech skidding to second place despite a rollicking 90-37 win over Cleveland Benedictine last week.

Area scholastic cage squads fared well in the weekly AP balloting.

Wilmington, the husky Hurricane coach Jack Gill has bidding for a repeat in the South Central Ohio League flag race, came up with one first place vote and a total of 21 points in the class AA poll. This was good for a part of the four - way deadlock for 21st place.

Miami Trace came in for a portion of the 27th spot with 12 points.

In single-A balloting undefeated Ashville (10-0) pulled down two first-position votes and 44 points to advance to 14th in the statewide ratings. Logan Elm (9-1) was awarded nine points and part of 28th place.

All four squads will be in action this week, seeking to improve their standings.

on the Middle court, was the eye catcher, and sports editors poured their support into the Taft team's cup. Earlier, at Hamilton, Taft had trimmed the Middies 79-70, but few thought Coach Marv McCollum's crew could repeat on the Middle hardwoods.

In the first of the Class A ratings, made this week, Ayersville's defending champions made a run-away of it. The Defiance County powerhouse, victor in 73 of its last 74 games and boasting 44 straight wins including 14 this year, more than doubled the poll point total of runner-up Fostoria St. Wendelin—258 to 126.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the worst records of the leaders.

Booster Unit Debates Means Of Financing

Members of a Booster Club athletic facilities improvement committee met last night in the home of Gene Hanson to debate possible means of financing a project here for a new football stadium and track and baseball facilities.

The Boosters currently have studied plans for erection on a tract of land in the Nicholas Drive area. The land, purchased by the Board of Education, consists of about 26 acres and is the present site of an elementary school now under construction.

Means of financing the project was the center of discussion last night. The group heard both the merits and drawbacks of selling bonds or obtaining note signers.

Cost of construction has been estimated at $30,000 to $50,000. Plans for the stadium already have been drawn and were presented for further study during the meeting.

THE committee also discussed possibilities of incorporating the Booster Club prior to undertaking a construction project.

Points covered last night will be presented to a regular meeting of Booster Club officers and Directors in February.

Tribe Enthused About Rookie Crop

NEW YORK (AP)—It's been years since the Cleveland Indians have had such a promising batch of rookies as the ones which will report to their spring training camp in Tucson, Ariz., next month.

Way back in 1929, the Indians presented such future stars as Earl Averill, Wes Ferrell, Mel Harder and Dick Harder and Dick Porter for the first time. Only time will tell whether history will repeat 32 years later. In any event, Mel McGaha, the freshman manager of the Indians, anxiously is awaiting such youngsters as pitcher Sam McDowell, outfielders Ty Cline and Al Luplow and infielders Jack Kubiszyn and Hal Jones.

Virtually everybody who has seen McDowell pitch has predicted future stardom for the 19-year-old Pittsburgh southpaw. He received a reported six - figure bonus to sign with the Indians' organization two years ago.

"The boy has the chance to become a great pitcher," said Bobby Feller, who ranks with Cy Young as the greatest of all Cleveland pitchers. "Despite his youth, I wouldn't be surprised if he makes the club this year."

McDowell's record at Salt Lake City last season, 13 victories and 10 defeats, isn't tremendously impressive until you look at his strikeout figures. He fanned 156 in 175 innings and howed a blazing fast ball and sharp curve to go with it. Wildness hurt him but he's young, industrious and willing to learn. It's a safe bet he'll be master pitching coach Harder's pet pupil this spring.

The trading of Jimmy Piersall to Washington paves the way for young Cline to take over as the Indians' regular center fielder. A 22-year-old left - handed hitter, Cline demonstrated, in a brief trial last fall, that he can do it all in the field. Still to be decided is whether he can hit big league pitching.

Off to a slow start last year, the youngster came fast at Salt Lake City and was approaching .300 when the Indians called him up. He finished with .290.

"I wouldn't be at all surprised if he hit .300 for us," aid McGaha. "This I'm certain of. He's a hard working kid."

Luplow, three months older than Cline, has more power. He slammed 17 home runs and drove in 91 runs on a .302 batting average with Salt Lake City and led the Pacific Coast League with 16 triple and 281 total base.

Another heavy socker is Jones, the big first baseman who hit 27 home runs and drove in 100 runs on a .270 batting average at Salt Lake City. He hit a couple of four baggers in a dozen games with the Indians. Kubiszyn is a fancy fielding shortstop who saw brief service with Cleveland last September. He must improve, however, on his .247 Salt Lake City batting average.

Cleveland is counting on lefty Don Rudolph, 31-year-old draftee from Indianapolis, to take some of the relief load off Bob Allen. Rudolph, 18-9, was one of the best pitchers in the American Association last year. Other highly regarded newcomers are Bill Dailey, a 26-year-old righthander, who divided 18 decision at Salt Lake City, and Steve Hamilton, 10-12 with the same club.

Southpaw Tommy John and right-hander Larry Patterson and Floyd Weaver are first year pitchers. None is over 20 and all probably will be farmed out. John was 10-4 and Patterson 4-5 at Duquesne while Weaver was 6-4 at Burlington and 1-2 at Selma.

With the exception of Gordon Lund, a .260 hitting infielder from Burlington, the other are first year players. The most impressive record belongs to Aurelio Martinez, a first baseman from Santo Domingo, who batted .368 with 16 homers and 81 runs batted in at Quincy; Bob Chance, 361 with 16 homers and 96 rbi at El Paso; and Hector Cardenas, a younger brother of the Reds' shortstop, who batted .325 with 16 homer and 85 RBI at Duquesne. Catcher Dick Booker (.924 at Batavia), and outfielder Tommy Agee and Frank Decatris (.261 and 251 at Duquesne, respectively), are the others.

AT one time he was an all-pro football star for the Redskins and the Rams. Teammates recently started a fund for him. An illness has caused a partial paralysis of his legs.

Pro Cage Stars Set for Battle

East Seeks Revenge For 1961 Defeat

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The East will counter the West's awesome scoring power in tonight's National Basketball Association All-Star game with the game's two best rebounders, experience and an other potent element—pride.

Dolph Schayes, Syracuse veteran selected for all 12 NBA All-Star games, put it this way:

"There is a lot of pride involved in this game on both sides. But the East particularly wants to even matters or that 151-133 defeat last year at Syracuse.

"As the years go by it becomes a little harder to stay at your peak," said Schayes, playing in his 14th pro season. "But this is one game you have no trouble getting fired up for."

The West's starters, led by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles with a 38.3 scoring average and St. Louis veteran Bob Pettit (31.2), have a combined scoring average this season of 158.7 points a game. The East starters total 133.3.

The East, coached for the 11th straight year by Boston's Red Auerbach, have 71 Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia (49.3), basketball's all-time scorer, plus Bob Cousy (15.1).

Chamberlain, in the voting, edged Boston's Bill Russell, a great defensive player and 19 point scorer. Russell and Chamberlain are the game's two best rebounders.

In addition to Chamberlain and Cousy, East starters are Schayes (17.3), Tom Heinsohn, Boston, (22.8) and Richie Guerin, New York, (28.8).

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson (30.7), rookie Walt Bellamy of Chicago, (29.7), and Jerry West of the Lakers (28.8), are the other West starters.

West coach is Fred Schaus.

50 Years in Prison Handed to Rapist, 22

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles Braxton, 22, faces at least 50 years in prison for rape at knife-point of three girls under 12 last spring and early summer.

Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas J. Parrino ordered Braxton to serve consecutive life terms in two of the cases. A third life sentence was allowed to run concurrently with the other two.

Aces, Deers Play Tonight

Amanda - Clearcreek and Williamsport share the spotlight in a sparse midweek basketball slate for the Pickaway County area.

Coach Kermit McCafferty's Aces travel to Reynoldsburg while the Williamsport Deers take a crack at invading Huntington.

Reynoldsburg boasts a strong squad on a floor that favors the home team. Huntington is currently tied for the top spot in the Ross County League with a 5-0 loop slate and an 8-4 overall record. The Deers sport a 9-4 total tally with four wins and a single loss in PCL play.

Mansfield Coach To Be Army Aide

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — William Francis (Bill) Doolittle, Mansfield Senior High football coach the last two years, resigned today to become offensive backfield mentor at West Point.

Doolittle, who won all-Ohio recognition a captain of these unbeaten 1941 Mansfield Tygers, later played for Ohio State. Paul Dietzel, who shifted from LSU to West Point as head coach a couple of weeks ago, was center on the Mansfield team which Doolittle captained.

In two years here Doolittle had a 12-6-3 record. He drew $9,500 as football coach and athletic director, but his salary with Army was not announced.

The 37-year-old mentor reports at West Point Feb. 1, but a search for his successor here will start immediately.

Jonathan Eber, 21, of Deerfield, Mass., will captain Columbia's 1962 cross-country team. His hobbies are automobiles, swimming and hunting.

Most points in one Big Ten football game last fall were scored by All-America Bob Ferguson of Ohio State. He got 24 points against Illinois and again against Michigan.

Top-Ranked Bucks Now Battle Exams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Midterm examinations rather than opposing basketball teams, are the chief concerns of Ohio State's Buckeyes today as they once more carry the tag as the nation's top college team after the latest Associated Press poll.

The Buckeyes (12-0), the only major unbeaten team, play Minnesota on Saturday night and spend the rest of the week with those ever-fearsome books.

However, two teams in the top 10 are in action tonight. Cincinnati (11-2), ranked third, takes on tough Dayton and eighth-ranked Bowling Green meets Kent State.

Kentucky (12-1), which jumped into the No. 2 spot in the opinion of the countrywide board of experts, won't play again until Jan. 29.

Because of the midterm exams, the top 10 teams have little activity this week. Southern Cal and Duke are idle until Feb. 2 and Jan. 27, respectively.

The only matching of the top teams occurs on Thursday when Cincinnati and Duquesne play in Pittsburgh.

The top 10 teams based on a 10-9-8 etc. vote count, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (41)	410
2. Kentucky	358
3. Cincinnati	322
4. Kansas State	269
5. Duquesne	165
6. Southern California	162
7. Duke	111
8. Bowling Green	109
9. Bradley	97
10. Mississippi State	63

Highest inning score during the 1961 PGA tour was the 264 total by Jack Burke when he won at Flint, Mich., last summer.

Twelve of the first 41 PGA golf tournaments of 1961 erve decided by playoffs. The PGA believes this to be a record.

Booster Unit Debates Means Of Financing

Members of a Booster Club athletic facilities improvement committee met last night in the home of Gene Hanson to debate possible means of financing a project here for a new football stadium and track and baseball facilities.

The Boosters currently have studied plans for erection on a tract of land in the Nicholas Drive area. The land, purchased by the Board of Education, consists of about 26 acres and is the present site for an elementary school now under construction.

Means of financing the project was the center of discussion last night. The group heard both the merits and drawbacks of selling bonds or obtaining note givers.

Cost of construction has been estimated at $30,000 to $50,000. Plans for the stadium already have been drawn and were presented for further study during the meeting.

THE committee also discussed possibilities of incorporating the Booster Club prior to undertaking a construction project.

Points covered last night will be presented to a regular meeting of Booster Club officers and Directors in February.

EARLY SEASON CALL—Touring the Dodgers' new stadium in Los Angeles, president Walter O'Malley plays the role of umpire as Bob Reynolds, president of the L. A. Angels, swings a plank. Catching is Harold McClellan, who will head the dedication committee April 9.

The Yankees will hold their 1962 Old Timers' Day on Saturday, July 28. The Chicago White Sox will be their "for real" opponents.

Halfback Cecil Young of Illinois led the Big Ten in kickoff returns last season with 10. He averaged 30.8 yards.

Tribe Enthused About Rookie Crop

NEW YORK (AP)—It's been years since the Cleveland Indians have had such a promising batch of rookies as the ones which will report to their spring training camp in Tucson, Ariz., next month.

Way back in 1929, the Indians presented such future stars as Earl Averill, Wes Ferrell, Mel Harder and Dick Harder and Dick Porter for the first time. Only time will tell whether history will repeat 32 years later. In any event, Mel McGaha, the freshman manager of the Indians, anxiously is awaiting such youngsters as pitcher Sam McDowell, outfielders Ty Cline and Al Luplow and infielders Jack Kubiszyn and Hal Jones.

Virtually everybody who has seen McDowell pitch has predicted future stardom for the 19-year-old Pittsburgh southpaw. He received a reported six-figure bonus to sign with the Indians' organization two years ago.

"The boy has the chance to become a great pitcher," said Bobby Feller, who ranks with Cy Young as the greatest of all Cleveland pitchers. "Despite his youth, I wouldn't be surprised if he makes the club this year."

McDowell's record at Salt Lake City last season, 13 victories and 10 defeats, isn't tremendously impressive until you look at his strikeout figures. He fanned 156 in 175 innings and howed a blazing fast ball and sharp curve to go with it. Wildness hurt him but he's young, industrious and willing to learn. It's a safe bet he'll be master pitching coach Harder's pet pupil this spring.

The trading of Jimmy Piersall to Washington paves the way for young Cline to take over as the Indians' regular center fielder. A 22-year-old left-handed hitter, Cline demonstrated, in a brief trial last fall, that he can do it all in the field. Still to be decided is whether he can hit big league pitching.

Off to a slow start last year, the youngster came fast at Salt Lake City and was approaching .300 when the Indians called him up. He finished with .290.

"I wouldn't be at all surprised if he hit .300 for us," said McGaha. "This I'm certain of. He's a hard working kid."

Luplow, three months older than Cline, has more power. He slammed 17 home runs and drove in 91 runs on a .302 batting average with Salt Lake City and led the Pacific Coast League with 16 triple and 281 total base.

Another heavy socker is Jones, the big first baseman who hit 27 home runs and drove in 100 runs on a .270 batting average at Salt Lake City. He hit a couple of four baggers in a dozen games with the Indians. Kubiszyn is a fancy fielding shortstop who saw brief service with Cleveland last September. He must improve, however, on his .247 Salt Lake City batting average.

Cleveland is counting on lefty Don Rudolph, 31-year-old draftee from Indianapolis, to take some of the relief load off Bob Allen. Rudolph, 18-9, was one of the best pitchers in the American Association last year. Other highly regarded newcomers are Bill Dailey, a 26-year-old righthander, who divided 18 decision at Salt Lake City, and Steve Hamilton, 10-12 with the same club.

Southpaw Tommy John and right-hander Larry Patterson and Floyd Weaver are first year pitchers. None is over 20 and all probably will be farmed out. John was 10-4 and Patterson 4-5 at Dubuque while Weaver was 6-4 at Burlington and 1-2 at Selma.

With the exception of Gordon Lund, a .260 hitting infielder from Burlington, the other are first year players. The most impressive record belongs to Autilio Martinez, a first baseman from Santo Domingo, who batted .368 with 16 homers and 81 runs batted in at Quincy; Bob Chance, .361 with 16 homers and 96 RBI at El Paso; and Hector Cardenas, a younger brother of the Reds' shortstop, who batted .325 with 16 homer and 85 RBI at Dubuque. Catcher Dick Booker (.924 at Batavia), and outfielder Tommy Agee and Frank Decatris (.261 and .251 at Dubuque, respectively), are the others.

AT one time he was an all-pro football star for the Redskins and the Rams. Teammates recently started a fund for him. An illness has caused a partial paralysis of his legs.

Aces, Deers Play Tonight

Amanda - Clearcreek and Williamsport share the spotlight in a sparse midweek basketball slate for the Pickaway County area.

Coach Kermit McCafferty's Aces travel to Reynoldsburg while the Williamsport Deers take a crack at invading Huntington.

Reynoldsburg boasts a strong squad on a floor that favors the home team. Huntington is currently tied for the top spot in the Ross County League with a 5-0 loop slate and an 8-4 overall record. The Deers sport a 9-4 total tally with four wins and a single loss in PCL play.

Mansfield Coach To Be Army Aide

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — William Francis (Bill) Doolittle, Mansfield Senior High football coach the last two years, resigned today to become offensive backfield mentor at West Point.

Doolittle, who won all-Ohio recognition as a captain of these unbeaten 1941 Mansfield Tigers, later played for Ohio State. Paul Dietzel, who shifted from LSU to West Point as head coach a couple of weeks ago, was center on the Mansfield team which Doolittle captained.

In two years here Doolittle had a 12-6-3 record. He drew $9,500 as football coach and athletic director, but his salary with Army was not announced.

The 37-year-old mentor reports at West Point Feb. 1, but a search for his successor here will start immediately.

Jonathan Eber, 21, of Deerfield, Mass., will captain Columbia's 1962 cross-country team. His hobbies are automobiles, swimming and hunting.

Most points in one Big Ten football game last fall were scored by All-American Bob Ferguson of Ohio State. He got 24 points against Illinois and again against Michigan.

The West's starters, led by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles with a 38.3 scoring average and St. Louis veteran Bob Pettit (31.2), have a combined scoring average this season of 158.7 points a game. The East starters total 133.3.

The East, coached for the 11th straight year by Boston's Red Auerbach, have 71 Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia (49.3), basketball's top all-time scorer, plus Bob Cousy (15.1).

Chamberlain, in the voting, edged Boston's Bill Russell, a great defensive player and 19 point scorer. Russell and Chamberlain are the game's two best rebounders.

In addition to Chamberlain and Cousy, East starters are Schayes (17.3), Tom Heinsohn, Boston, (22.8) and Richie Guerin, New York, (28.8).

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson (30.7), rookie Walt Bellamy of Chicago, (29.7), and Jerry West of the Lakers (28.8), are the other West starters.

West coach is Fred Schaus.

50 Years in Prison Handed to Rapist, 22

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles Braxton, 22, faces at least 50 years in prison for rape at knife-point of three girls under 12 last spring and early summer.

Top-Ranked Bucks Now Battle Exams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Midterm examinations rather than opposing basketball teams, are the chief concerns of Ohio State's Buckeyes today as they once more carry the tag as the nation's top college team after the latest Associated Press poll.

The Buckeyes (12-0), the only major unbeaten team, play Minnesota on Saturday night and spend the rest of the week with those ever-fearsome books.

However, two teams in the top 10 are in action tonight. Cincinnati (11-2), ranked third, takes on tough Dayton and eighth-ranked Bowling Green meets Kent State.

Kentucky (12-1), which jumped into the No. 2 spot in the opinion of the countrywide board of experts, won't play again until Jan. 29.

Because of the midterm exams, the top 10 teams have little activity this week. Southern Cal and Duke are idle until Feb. 2 and Jan. 27, respectively.

The only matching of the top teams occurs on Thursday when Cincinnati and Duquesne play in Pittsburgh.

The top 10 teams based on a 10-9-8 etc. vote count, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (41)	410
2. Kentucky	358
3. Cincinnati	322
4. Kansas State	269
5. Duquesne	165
6. Southern California	162
7. Duke	111
8. Bowling Green	109
9. Bradley	97
10. Mississippi State	63

Highest inning score during the 1961 PGA tour was the 284 total by Jack Burke when he won at Flint, Mich., last summer.

over teams with poorer records.

Duquesne romped to its 12th win in 13 starts in an easy 80-57 decision over Toledo (8-6). The fifth-ranked Dukes were led by Willie

Janet Leigh Favors Campaign For Stars To Aid Peace Corps

By MARK LONDON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LOS ANGELES—Screen star Janet Leigh thinks Hollywood actors and actresses should launch a full-scale, person-to-person program to assist Peace Corps operations in various Latin American areas.

And she knows whereof she speaks. She recently completed a trip to South America, at the urging of Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and with the encouragement of President Kennedy himself.

"It was an eye-opening experience for me and a source of much cheer," she says. "Everywhere I went Latin Americans treated me not only with friendliness, but with cordiality. No booing or jeering—no one telling me to go home, as I had expected." In a frank talk with this correspondent, Miss Leigh explained how thoroughly and cheerfully student, movie, government and other groups received her in Argentina and Brazil. She also stopped off briefly in other points in the lands to her south.

In all instances, however, Janet was on her own—a journey combining good-will, fact-gathering and unofficial spadework for Hollywood.

Janet summed it up: "I'm glad I traveled in a strict out-of-office capacity. That way I had a chance to land everywhere and approach everyone informally. It was as Janet Leigh, human being first of all, and a Hollywood actress by profession and good luck, that I made my contacts."

There was no hoopla for me. My presence touched off no hostile demonstrations, fortunately. No guns boomed a salute to me," she added with a good-humored grin. She went on, after a moment's reflection:

"But it was refreshing to find the Latins for the most part curious, open-minded and thoughtful. They came up to me in a spirit of good neighborliness. Happily, most of them knew me by my movies. They introduced themselves, welcomed me to their city or village, and asked me intelligent questions about Hollywood."

Janet had a chance to study Peace Corps operations in various Latin areas. "They're doing good for our country," she hastened to concede. "But I think Hollywood's most congenial and attractive personalities can sell our country and our way of life even better."

"I'm in favor of launching a full-scale person-to-person program now: one in which Hollywood film stars would take an unselfish and energetic part. At intervals they'd set out from Hollywood and venture into out-of-the-way parts of Central and South America on personal appearances. Or, if you prefer, on good-neighborly calls.

"They'd sing, dance, talk informally or debate—whatever they could do best—everywhere they stopped. They'd get to know how the Latins of that corner of the world worked and lived—what their hopes and needs were."

"I think such a project, backed and boosted by Hollywood's best brains, its good-will, and its best-liked personalities could accomplish enormous good for the U.S.A. in Latin countries. My friend, Attorney General Kennedy, thinks so, too. His brother, the President, also has given the idea his enthusiastic endorsement."

Janet hopes to rally Hollywood film moguls around her project. With full participation by the movie colony, its chances of success would be increased many-fold, she believes. But even if the movie bigwigs shy away from it, Janet and her husband, Tony Curtis, intend to go full-speed ahead—on their own.

Operating as a team, they'll enlist the support of their close friends and other movie stars who not only would be willing, but eager to play remote areas of Latin America good-neighborly, unofficial visits.

"We hope to get our program rolling early in 1962," Janet assured this reporter. "We also hope to convince the world that Hollywood personalities can do an unselfish and beneficial deed for their country."

Johnny Antonelli, now with the New York Mets, made seven starts for Cleveland in 1961 and failed to finish one game.

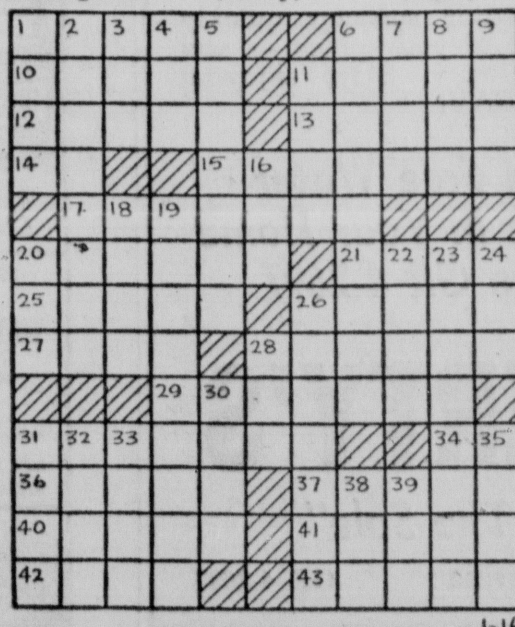

SCARE TACTICS—Sideline with a broken jaw, Dolph Schayes, of the Syracuse pro cage team, gets fitted with a special mask by coach Alex Hannum in Philadelphia. Schayes said that if he could not play the opposition because of the injury he could "scare 'em to death" with the mask.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Constant viewers of CBS' long-playing daytime serial, "Secret Storm," are in for a mild shock next Monday. The face and figure of the principal character will be different—although the name will be the same and the plot will go on and on.

After eight years of playing problem-dogged Peter Ames, department store owner and widower with three children, actor Peter Hobbs has decided to quit the show after next Friday's episode.

He is giving such short notice—his departure is not entirely amicable—that there's no time to wind up the current story line, and, as is the usual practice, send the character to India or some remote place to cool off before bringing on the new actor playing the old role.

"I'm sorry to lose Hobbs," said Roy Windsor, producer of the show, "but his leaving isn't a real problem. There's just one answer: re-cast the part. In a daytime serial, it's the character, not the actor, that counts."

Hobbs says he's leaving—"after all, eight years is enough"—largely because he has some television ideas of his own he wants to pursue.

CBS was proud and happy when, recently, it announced a special hour show on Wednesday, Feb. 14 during which Mrs. John F. Kennedy would take the viewers on a tour of the White House.

Now, the First Lady's conducted tour is an all-network show—at the request of the White House itself. NBC also will broadcast the show, still produced by CBS, from 10 to 11 p.m. (EST) that night. ABC, which has a temporary vacancy on Friday nights to fill with news shows anyway, will rebroadcast the program from 7:30-8:30 two nights later. That will give younger viewers, many of whom would miss the late shows, a chance to see the official residence of the President.

Recommended tonight: "Premiere" Theater, ABC, 10-11 (EST)—"The Hour of the Bath," a story about a member of the Peace Corps, with Robert ("Laramie") Fuller and Barbara Luna.

Blue Cabin, a 2-year-old chestnut filly, is well-named. She's by First Cabin—Blue Missy by Blue Pair.

Janet Leigh Favors Campaign For Stars To Aid Peace Corps

By MARK LONDON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LOS ANGELES—Screen star Janet Leigh thinks Hollywood actors and actresses should launch a full-scale, person-to-person program to assist Peace Corps operations in various Latin American areas.

And she knows whereof she speaks. She recently completed a trip to South America, at the urging of Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and with the encouragement of President Kennedy himself.

"It was an eye-opening experience for me and a source of much cheer," she says. "Everywhere I went Latin Americans treated me not only with friendliness, but with cordiality. No booing or jeering — no one telling me to go home, as I had expected."

In a frank talk with this correspondent, Miss Leigh explained how thoroughly and cheerfully student, movie, government and other groups received her in Argentina and Brazil. She also stopped off briefly in other points in the lands to our south.

In all instances, however, Janet was on her own — a journey combining good-will, factgathering and unofficial spadework for Hollywood.

Janet summed it up: "I'm glad I traveled in a strict unofficial capacity. That way I had a chance to land everywhere and approach everyone informally. It was as Janet Leigh, human being first of all, and a Hollywood actress by profession and good luck, that I made my contacts."

There was no hoopla for me. My presence touched off no hostile demonstrations, fortunately. No guns boomed a salute to me," she added with a good-humored grin. She went on, after a moment's reflection:

"But it was refreshing to find the Latins for the most part curious, open-minded and thoughtful. They came up to me in a spirit of good neighborliness. Happily, most of them knew me by my movies. They introduced themselves, welcomed me to their city or village, and asked me intelligent questions about Hollywood."

Janet had a chance to study Peace Corps operations in various Latin areas. "They're doing good for our country," she hastened to concede. "But I think Hollywood's most congenial and attractive personalities can sell our country and our way of life even better."

"I'm in favor of launching a full-scale person-to-person program now: one in which Hollywood film stars would take an unselfish and energetic part. At intervals they'd set out from Hollywood and venture into out-of-the-way parts of Central and South America on personal appearances. Or, if you prefer, on good-neighborly calls.

"They'd sing, dance, talk informally or debate—whatever they could do best — everywhere they stopped. They'd get to know how the Latins of that corner of the world worked and lived — what their hopes and needs were."

"I think such a project, backed and boosted by Hollywood's best brains, its good-will, and its best-liked personalities could accomplish enormous good for the U.S.A. in Latin countries. My friend, Attorney General Kennedy, thinks so, too. His brother, the President, also has given the idea his enthusiastic endorsement."

Janet hopes to rally Hollywood film moguls around her project. With full participation by the movie colony, its chances of success would be increased many-fold, she believes. But even if the movie bigwigs shy away from it, Janet and her husband, Tony Curtis, intend to go full-speed ahead — on their own.

Operating as a team, they'll enlist the support of their close friends and other movie stars who not only would be willing, but eager to play remote areas of Latin America good — neighborly, unofficial visits.

"We hope to get our program rolling early in 1962," Janet assured this reporter. "We also hope to convince the world that Hollywood personalities can do an unselfish and beneficial deed for their country."

Johnny Antonelli, now with the New York Mets, made seven starts for Cleveland in 1961 and failed to finish one game.

SCARE TACTICS—Sidelined with a broken jaw, Dolph Schayes, of the Syracuse pro cage team, gets fitted with a special mask by coach Alex Hannum in Philadelphia. Schayes said that if he couldn't outplay the opposition because of the injury he could "scare 'em to death" with the mask.

Trumbull Dem Boss Labeled 'Dupe' at Trial

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Frank Cicelli, Trumbull County Democratic chairman, was pictured as the dupe of "convincing councilmen and contractors" at his trial on charges including bribery, extortion and witness intimidation opened here Monday.

Cicelli, 31, was indicted by the September grand jury in connection with an alleged shakedown of contractors on a $4.5 million sewer project.

Assistant Prosecutor David McLain told the jury of six men and six women Cicelli masterminded a conspiracy to shake down contractor Rocco Ferrera of Detroit and Eugene P. Brady of Livonia, Mich., for $235,000 to make sure their firms received the sewer contract.

Defense Counsel John Spain said, however, that Cicelli was merely the dupe of the three councilmen and the contractors. He said Cicelli intervened in discussions between councilmen and contractors only to preserve party harmony and to get the sewer project under way.

Public Area Draws About 3,000 Hunters

The 900-acre Pickaway-Franklin leased public hunting area drew about 3,000 hunters from November 15 through December 16. The Division of Wildlife leased the area from William Green.

Figures compiled by Virgil Scott, district game management supervisor, show the hunters took 798 pheasants, 46 rabbits and 31 quail. Hunters harvested 80 per cent of the pheasants released by the division.

Scott said 474 hunters were checked into the area the first Saturday of the season, 132 more than on opening day.

Long History of Motor Cars Produces Interesting Facts

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

During the first 30 or more days in the new year is that "gauge season" when 70 million Americans dig down deep and part with a few more of their precious dollars — for their 1962 auto license tags.

That fact alone should bring forth a bit of nostalgic thinking: how did it all happen? Why are 70 million motor cars on today's highways?

It's surprising how little most of us know about our cars, and the history behind them.

The Rolls-Royce, for instance, is not the most expensive standard car on today's market. Henry Ford didn't invent the gas-driven auto.

Today's most expensive standard auto is the Spanish Pegasos, with prices starting at $27,000.

Frank and Charles Duryea of Massachusetts invented the first gas-driven passenger car — but they didn't get rich.

John R. Cobb drove an automobile faster than anyone in the world — 403.135 miles an hour, and it didn't happen yesterday, but back in 1947.

The oldest car in a running condition is a steam carriage built in England in 1875. Its top speed: 15 miles per hour.

Some of the first automobile pioneers, searching for a horseless governor in 1958, and was the Democratic nominee for Congress two years ago.

carriage back in the 18th century, were actually put into insane asylums. Before that (1740), a Frenchman made a car, run by clocksprings. It worked. But it took a lot of winding.

Early inventors met frustration on every hand. A steam-operated carriage invented in 1765 managed to travel at two miles per hour. But even at this slow speed its steering mechanism was so faulty it was wrecked in a roadside ditch.

When the internal combustion engine became better known in the 1890's, it became the butt of many jokes. A popular gag at the time was about a car "with a wooden frame, wooden wheels, wooden body, and wooden run."

Everyone was skeptical. Said Hetty Green, America's richest woman in 1904: "An auto? I'd rather have a donkey!"

QUITS AS MAYOR—Philadelphia's Mayor Richardson Dilworth announces his resignation, effective Feb. 12, as his wife listens by his side. The resignation clears the way for him to seek the Pennsylvania Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Taft Seeks Top Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft has filed petitions as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the chief justice. Taft, 58, has been on the state bench since Jan. 2, 1949.

Even the U. S. government was skeptical. In 1899, our Department of War purchased three motor vehicles, but each was equipped with a special hitch, "so a mule can be used should it refuse to run."

Across the pond, the outlook was even worse. In England, in 1865, laws were passed prohibiting self-propelled vehicles to travel faster than four miles an hour in the country, and two miles per hour in town. We walk at three miles an hour!

H. H. Kohlsaat, publisher of a Chicago newspaper, really started the golden age for automobiles in America back in 1895, when he offered a $10,000 prize for the winner of a 52-mile race for horseless carriages. The date was set; more than 100 entries promised. But on race day, four cars showed up. Two never left the starting line. Only one made the entire trip.

It's a pity that many of the men who pioneered the automobile industry are entirely forgotten today.

One of them was Hugh Chalmers, a car dealer who advertised that each year he would give away a car to the batting champion of the American and National Leagues. The first free car went to Ty Cobb, a perfect setup, for Cobb played for the Detroit Tigers and Chalmers' cars were made in Detroit. Only Cobb spoiled everything — he sold his gift car.

Nobody could foresee the day when Americans would drive more than 70 million motor vehicles when many families have two and even three cars.

Yet there were some genuine prophets. Oliver Evans, back in 1813, predicted: "The time will come when people will travel in stages moved by steam engines, from one city to another, almost as fast as birds fly."

However, the greatest prophet of all was the man who wrote: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle against each other in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like lightnings."

This prophet's name was Nahum. You can find what he wrote in the Bible.

Rabies Shot Administered At Laurelville

LOGAN—Seven Hocking County residents are undergoing anti-rabies shots after being exposed to a rabid horse on the Edward Blum farm, Route 2, Laurelville.

Several days ago the horse acted strangely and Blum and some neighbors attempted to put it in the barn. The animal started biting itself and a veterinarian was called. He said it appeared to be rabid.

The horse was shot and the brain sent to the Ohio Department of Health laboratories in Columbus. The preliminary test was negative, but the secondary test showed the animal to be rabid.

None of the seven persons exposed was bitten by the animal, but all had a possibility of contracting the disease from the horse's saliva through cuts on their hands. They must take 14 shots in 14 days. The anti-rabies injections were recommended by a local physician. The seven are from three different families, all of Laurelville, Rt. 2.

All other animals on the Blum farm have since been inoculated, but are being kept under strict observation.

It could not be determined how the horse became rabid since there were no fresh bites on the carcass, according to Jack Cummins, Hocking County sanitarian.

Long History of Motor Cars Produces Interesting Facts

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

During the first 30 or more days in the new year is that "gauge season" when 70 million Americans dig down deep and part with a few more of their precious dollars — for their 1962 auto license tags.

That fact alone should bring forth a bit of nostalgic thinking, how did it all happen? Why are 70 million motor cars on today's highways?

It's surprising how little most of us know about our cars, and the history behind them.

The Rolls-Royce, for instance, is not the most expensive standard car on today's market. Henry Ford didn't invent the gas-driven auto.

Today's most expensive standard auto is the Spanish Pegasos, with prices starting at $27,000.

Frank and Charles Daryea of Massachusetts invented the first gas-driven passenger car — but they didn't get rich.

John R. Cobb drove an automobile faster than anyone in the world—403.135 miles an hour, and it didn't happen yesterday, but back in 1947.

The oldest car in a running condition is a steam carriage built in England in 1875. Its top speed: 15 miles per hour.

Some of the first automobile pioneers, searching for a horseless carriage back in the 18th century, were actually put into insane asylums. Before that (1740), a Frenchman made a car, run by clocksprings. It worked. But it took a lot of winding.

Early inventors met frustration on every hand. A steam-operated carriage invented in 1765 managed to travel at two miles per hour. But even at this slow speed its steering mechanism was so faulty it was wrecked in a roadside ditch.

When the internal combustion engine became better known in the 1890's, it became the butt of many jokes. A popular gag at the time was about a car "with a wooden frame, wooden wheels, wooden body, and wood'n run."

Everyone was skeptical. Said Hetty Green, America's richest woman in 1904: "An auto? I'd rather have a donkey!"

QUITS AS MAYOR—Philadelphia's Mayor Richardson Dilworth announces his resignation, effective Feb. 12, as his wife listens by his side. The resignation clears the way for him to seek the Pennsylvania Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Taft Seeks Top Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft has filed petitions as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the chief justice. Taft, 58, has been on the state bench since Jan. 2, 1949.

Even the U. S. government was skeptical. In 1899, our Department of War purchased three motor vehicles, but each was equipped with a special hitch, "so a mule can be used should it refuse to run."

Across the pond, the outlook was even worse. In England, in 1865, laws were passed prohibiting self-propelled vehicles to travel faster than four miles an hour in the country, and two miles per hour in town. We walk at three miles an hour!

H. H. Kohlsaat, publisher of a Chicago newspaper, really started the golden age for automobiles in America back in 1895, when he offered a $10,000 prize for the winner of a 52-mile race for horseless carriages. The date was set; more than 100 entries promised. But on race day, four cars showed up. Two never left the starting line. Only one made the entire trip.

It's a pity that many of the men who pioneered the automobile industry are entirely forgotten today.

One of them was Hugh Chalmers, a car dealer who would give away a car to the batting champion of the American and National Leagues.

The first free car went to Ty Cobb, a perfect setup, for Cobb played for the Detroit Tigers and Chalmers' cars were made in Detroit. Only Cobb spoiled everything — he sold his gift car.

Nobody could force the day when Americans would drive more than 70 million motor vehicles when many families have two and even three cars.

Yet there were some genuine prophets. Oliver Evans, back in 1813, predicted: "The time will come when people will travel in stages moved by steam engines, from one city to another, almost as fast as birds fly."

However, the greatest prophet of all was the man who wrote: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle against each other in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like lightnings."

This prophet's name was Nahum. You can find what he wrote in the Bible.

Rabies Shot Administered At Laurelville

LOGAN—Seven Hocking County residents are undergoing anti-rabies shots after being exposed to a rabid horse on the Edward Blum farm, Route 2, Laurelville.

Several days ago the horse acted strangely and Blum and some neighbors attempted to put it in the barn. The animal started biting itself and a veterinarian was called. He said it appeared to be rabid.

The horse was shot and the brain sent to the Ohio Department of Health laboratories in Columbus. The preliminary test was negative, but the secondary test showed the animal to be rabid.

None of the seven persons exposed was bitten by the animal, but all had a possibility of contracting the disease from the horse's saliva through cuts on their hands. They must take 14 shots in 14 days. The anti-rabies injections were recommended by a local physician. The seven are from three different families, all of Laurelville, Rt. 2.

All other animals on the Blum farm have since been inoculated, but are being kept under strict observation.

It could not be determined how the horse became rabid since there were no fresh bites on the carcass, according to Jack Cummins, Hocking County sanitarian.

FFA Talk Slated By Methodist Men

The Methodist Men's Club of the First Methodist Church will gather for its monthly meeting tomorrow in the church basement.

Guest Speaker will be Jack Reed of the Federal Aeronautics Administration office in Columbus. His talk will be "Controlling Aircraft Traffic."

Reed will explain how a traffic controller in an airport tower performs his job.

Program chairman Frank Hoffman said the menu will consist of a hot chili supper. Tickets will be available at the door for the 6:30 p. m. starting event.

Directors Omitted

The names of D. J. Carpenter and Dr. J. T. Nolan were omitted from yesterday's published list of directors at the Third National Bank. Leland Pontius is a vice president of the institution, but not a director.

Trumbull Dem Boss Labeled 'Dupe' at Trial

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Frank Cickelli, Trumbull County Democratic chairman, was pictured as the dupe of "convinced councilmen and contractors" at his trial on charges including bribery, extortion and witness intimidation opened here Monday.

Cickelli, 51, was indicted by the September grand jury in connection with an alleged shakedown of contractors on a $4.5 million sewer project.

Assistant Prosecutor David McLain told the jury of six men and six women Cickelli masterminded a conspiracy to shake down contractor Rocco Ferrara of Detroit and Eugene P. Brady of Livonia, Mich., for $235,000 to make sure their firms received the sewer contract.

Defense Counsel John Spain said, however, that Cickelli was merely the dupe of the three councilmen and the contractors. He said Cickelli intervened in discussions between councilmen and contractors only to preserve party harmony and to get the sewer project under way.

Public Area Draws About 3,000 Hunters

The 900-acre Pickaway-Franklin leased public hunting area drew about 3,000 hunters from November 15 through December 16. The Division of Wildlife leased the area from William Green.

Figures compiled by Virgil Scott, district game management supervisor, show the hunters took 798 pheasants, 46 rabbits and 31 quail. Hunters harvested 80 per cent of the pheasants released by the division.

Scott said 474 hunters were checked into the area the first Saturday of the season, 132 more than on opening day.
